create the content viewers and readers love

Creativity and financial discipline: At Scripps, we believe they go hand in hand. We start by efficiently delivering the content that viewers and readers love. We've built a diversified media company with a growing portfolio of national television programming services and respected local media franchises that share a common creative strategy. All of our media businesses deliver informative, entertaining and highly useful content that appeals to and inspires the passions and interests of our readers and viewers. It's a philosophy rooted firmly in the company's tradition as a trusted source for news and information. Offering multiple media platforms, Scripps strives every day to deliver top-notch television programming and newspaper content. It's a strategy on which this company has prospered for 125 years.

CREATE THE CONTENT > HGTV

Inspiring. That's a word we often hear when people tell us how they feel about Home & Garden Television. In fact, we like to say that HGTV is all about ideas, information and inspiration. We believe HGTV's thoughtful and entertaining lifestyle programming provides a welcomed and refreshing television viewing experience. We must be doing something right, because more people than ever before are watching HGTV.

"I absolutely love HGTV.
It inspires me."

(Brenda Williams, retail management consultant, Dallas, Texas)

"Thanks, Food Network, for all of the tips, ideas and recipes.
I'm getting rave reviews."

{ Deb Bonitz, counselor, Ph.D. candidate, Muncie, Indiana }

You're welcome. We're getting rave reviews too. Food Network is one of the hottest television networks around. We've made a point of redefining the TV food genre, taking the programming out of the kitchen and right into the lives of food lovers everywhere. The response has been tremendous. Food Network is regularly ranked as one of the fastest growing and most-watched networks on cable and satellite television.

An antidote for stress. That's precisely what we had in mind when we first conceived of Fine Living, our newest lifestyle programming service. Fine Living is all about getting the most out of life with whatever you have. It's about saving precious time in a fast-paced world by providing a one-stop resource — on-air or online — for the best advice and information on how to live life to the fullest. It's all about... well, Fine Living.

"Fine Living reminds me to celebrate and enjoy.
It's an antidote for stress."

{ Valerie Barrie, an explorer of new places, Laguna Niguel, California }

"DIY has Step-by-step instructions for any and every project around the house!"

(Raggy Langdon, volunteer firefighter, do-it-yourselfer, East Palmyra, New York)

We might not have all of the answers, but we think we're getting pretty darned close. With 500 hours of new original programming and 9,600 step-by-step projects online, DIY, together with DIYnet.com, is a comprehensive online and on-air resource for "how-to" information on home improvement projects, crafts and much more. It's the perfect marriage between emerging interactive television technologies—including video-on-demand and the Internet—offering on-air demonstrations and detailed instructions online.

"Sophisticated, well-crafted.
Hard-nosed, punchy.
A major American newspaper
at the top of its game."

(Judges' comments, 2002 Colorado AP Editors and Reporters competition)

All 21 Scripps daily newspapers serve as premier destinations for news and information in the communities they serve. Their success is built on our commitment to editorial excellence. Few newspapers deliver quality content better than Denver's Rocky Mountain News. The News is recognized perennially by its peers for top-quality reporting, superb photography and overall excellence. Its long list of honors includes the 2002 general excellence award from the Colorado AP Editors and Reporters Association journalism competition.

Our local media franchises make a difference in the communities they serve. In Cincinnati, our ABC affiliate, WCPO-TV, continues to explore the fundamental issues that contributed to the city's racial unrest of two years ago. In an hour-long special that aired in 2002, WCPO shared with the entire community the challenges facing an inner-city high school football coach and the young men he's trying to mentor. The special, titled "Faith, Hope and Courage," is the type of quality broadcast journalism that has made WCPO a two-time George Foster Peabody Award winner.

{ Scripps advertising platforms }

create the marketplace advertisers desire

Over the years, Scripps has successfully capitalized on the media technology of the day by creating new and innovative advertising platforms. Today, advertisers who rely on Scripps have a wide range of valuable choices to efficiently reach motivated consumers. Our portfolio includes widely distributed and targeted national television networks; a new and growing TV retailing environment; video-on-demand platforms; popular TV and online promotional platforms; on-air interstitial sponsorship opportunities; Web sites that go beyond what we offer in print and on-air; strong local newspapers and broadcast television stations; and a variety of printed direct-mail and total market coverage products. The success we've had creating new marketplaces, we believe, is reflected in the company's consistent, solid operating performance.

Scripps-On-Demand > GMC is one of several advertisers that has discovered the value of sponsoring video-on-demand (VOD) content created by Scripps Networks. Our targeted lifestyle and "how-to" programming appeals to viewers with very specific interests and passions, which makes Scripps Networks and VOD a perfect match. HGTV, Food Network and DIY programming is now available on demand in 38 U.S. cable television markets. We're tapping our deep archives of 15,000 hours of original programming — which is nearly 100 percent owned by Scripps — to provide viewers with the content they want, when they want it.

< Fine Living Essentials We're developing strategies to make sure that advertising messages will be seen, especially as new personal video recording technologies gain popularity. At Fine Living, we've designed an innovative television format that glides seamlessly between programming and advertising. Advertisers — such as Prudential Financial Services — can sponsor 60-second features, or interstitials called "Fine Living Essentials," that air within the framework of scheduled programming. "Fine Living Essentials" offer viewers tips on topics such as picking the right cruise or choosing the best personal digital assistant. The interstitial platform also provides advertisers with the assurance they need that their commercial message is reaching its intended target.

HGTV Dream Home Giveaway > Each year, Home & Garden Television's Dream Home Giveaway grows in popularity and each year, an increasing number of sponsors discover its value as an online and on-air promotional advertising platform. Ethan Allen, Whirlpool and Pella are just a few of the advertisers sponsoring the 2003 Dream Home Giveaway. More than 28 million HGTV viewers entered the 2003 competition, a 150 percent increase over the previous year. Television programming created to support the annual promotion also draws some of HGTV's highest ratings. The Dream Home Giveaway is just another example of how Scripps Networks is creating attractive marketplaces that are difficult for advertisers to resist.

< 30-Minute Meals - Food Bytes Advertisers such as Campbell's Soups are able to reach consumers they covet by using a combination of efficient ad platforms, such as Food Network's 30-Minute Meals, and a foodnetwork.com advertising feature called Food Bytes. It works like this: During 30-second commercial spots, sponsors can advertise dishes using their own products. At the end of the spot, consumers are directed to the foodbytes.com Web page where the recipe they've just seen during the commercial can be found. The concept works particularly well with 30-Minute Meals, which features Chef Rachel Ray providing tips on how to save time and money by whipping up some tasty and quick creations at home.

Scripps efficiently links advertisers to consumers.

We attract consumers with passion and purchasing power

< DIY Scrapbooking Advertisers are discovering the value of DIY's highly targeted programming as an efficient means of reaching consumers with specific interests. Kodak advertises on popular DIY shows such as Scrapbooking and Croppin' USA to directly reach avid scrapbooking enthusiasts; Hobbytown USA has identified DIY's Radio Controlled Hobbies as a direct link to some of its core customers; and Lowe's, Moen Faucets, Sherwin Williams and others are driving retail sales by sponsoring online and on-air "how-to" home improvement projects we call DIY Kits. DIY, in our opinion, has emerged as one of the most creative — and effective — advertising platforms on the cable and satellite TV dial.

Local TV: Live remote advertising > Scripps television stations deliver solid value for the advertising dollar by providing broadcast media platforms that local retailers can't find anywhere else. All of our TV stations work closely with local merchants to develop advertising strategies that are tailored to fit their marketing needs. In suburban Detroit, the Scripps ABC affiliate, WXYZ-TV, developed an advertising strategy with a local auto dealer, Demmer Automotive Group (Ford, Lincoln, Mercury), which included live remote broadcasts from the dealership that aired in key programs throughout the broadcast day. The tried and true live remote technique proved effective in driving customers to the Demmer showroom.

< Daily newspapers: In print, online Department stores choose Scripps newspapers to reach consumers in local markets from coast-to-coast. In 2002, Dillard's chose our newspaper in Corpus Christi, Texas — the Corpus Christi Caller-Times — to test newspaper Internet advertising for the first time. The experiment, which included running display ads simultaneously in the Caller-Times and on its Web site (caller.com), has proven to be so successful that Dillard's now regularly includes the Internet as part of its local marketing strategy. Scripps newspapers in key markets offer a range of advertising alternatives, including direct mail and total market coverage products, the Internet and, of course, the daily newspaper.

Shop At Home: Television retailing > With the acquisition of the Shop At Home Network in 2002, we've added a direct home-marketing component to our diverse mix of media businesses that we believe will grow increasingly valuable to advertisers. We'll be working in the months ahead to improve the on-air look and feel of Shop At Home and we'll be adjusting the network's product mix to sync up more closely with the home, garden and food consumer categories that are targeted by our popular lifestyle programming services. We've already begun the process with the successful addition of the Culinary Integrity line of cookware to our retail offerings.

{ Scripps value proposition }

create shareholder value

To our shareholders: As we celebrate our 125th anniversary this year, we have to wonder what our founder, E.W. Scripps, would think of his company today. We think he'd be pleased. Mr. Scripps laid the foundation for an enterprise that not only has survived the test of time, but also has evolved into one of the country's fastest growing diversified media companies. From the first "penny paper" launched in 1878, The E.W. Scripps Company has grown to include such powerful and recognizable media brands as Home & Garden Television, Food Network, the DIY – Do It Yourself Network, Denver's Rocky Mountain News and the PEANUTS and DILBERT comic strips and characters. We aren't stopping there. (continued on page 17)

(continued from page 15) During 2002 we launched Fine Living, our fourth lifestyle-oriented television network, and entered the expanding TV retailing business with our acquisition of the Shop At Home Network. We're exploring opportunities to deliver lifestyle programming to the growing Hispanic television audience and we're tapping our deep programming archives to provide valuable content to cable TV operators as they accelerate their rollout of digital and video-on-demand services.

As it has for generations, Scripps continually reinvents itself to remain vibrant in an ever-evolving media environment. Whether it's in print, via broadcast television, by satellite or cable, on the Internet or video-on-demand, our strategy is to create new content platforms and advertising marketplaces that add value to the enterprise. We execute that strategy by deploying a substantial share of the company's free cash flow toward the internal development of our growing businesses. The strategic direction we've chosen, we believe, is affirmed by the company's consistently strong operating performance.

Consolidated results Together, our media businesses generated $1.5 billion in consolidated revenues in 2002, up 10 percent from 2001. Total segment profits increased 24 percent to $481 million year-over-year, continuing a pattern of growth. Since 1997 the company's segment profits have grown at an 8 percent compounded annual growth rate (CAGR). Including investment results and other unusual items, the company's net income in 2002 reached $188 million, up 36 percent over the prior year, as reported under generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

Scripps Networks Driving the company's growth is the tremendous success of HGTV and Food Network. It's no accident that HGTV and Food Network have become two of television's most popular and recognizable brands. We've built these networks by delivering quality lifestyle programming that efficiently links advertisers with the passions and interests of millions of viewers. We spent 2002 continuing to build these valuable brands by following our successful programming formula and launching a carefully targeted marketing campaign. The new programming and heightened brand identity resulted in significant viewership gains and outstanding operating results for the year.

Scripps Networks – which includes all of our national programming services – generated segment profits of $125 million in 2002, up 65 percent year-over-year. Excluding our emerging networks, DIY and Fine Living, segment profits at Scripps Networks rose 67 percent to $163 million. Total revenues from Scripps Networks reached $415 million, up 23 percent.

HGTV and Food Network Looking at results from our flagship networks, HGTV contributed $111 million to segment profits, a 35 percent increase year-over-year. HGTV revenues were $246 million, up 15 percent. Food Network contributed $52.6 million to segment profits compared to $16.2 million in 2001. Food Network revenues jumped 34 percent to $158 million.

Increased viewership of both networks is driving the financial results. More people than ever are watching HGTV and Food Network. During 2002, the average number of households tuned to Food Network during primetime jumped 43 percent. Growing from a larger base, HGTV primetime viewership was up about 19 percent for the year. HGTV is now available in about 80 million U.S. households and Food Network, at 78 million, isn't far behind. Both networks still have room to grow in a cable and satellite TV universe of 87 million households.

Growth in the use of the HGTV and Food Network Web sites – hgtv.com and foodnetwork.com – offers further evidence of just how ubiquitous these networks have become. According to Nielsen NetRatings, foodnetwork.com attracted an average 3.2 million unique visitors a month in 2002, making it one of the most visited food sites on the entire Internet. The monthly average number of unique visitors to hgtv.com reached 2.6 million a month in 2002, up 76 percent from the prior year.

Clearly, HGTV and Food Network are tremendously valuable assets and represent an excellent return on the investment we've made in them.

Fine Living and DIY Our newer Scripps Networks brands – Fine Living and DIY – also are showing promise. Fine Living, a lifestyle network dedicated to helping viewers get the most out of life, is available in more than 13 million U.S. television households just a year after its launch. With 24 premier character advertisers and distribution of the network well ahead of our expectations in its first year, we think Fine Living is off to a fine start.

- (Millions of Households

DIY's distribution also grew to 13 million households in 2002 as cable system operators continue their systematic rollout of digital video services. Offering detailed "how-to" content on a wide variety of topics, DIY and its companion Web site – DIYnet.com – were designed to meet the increased demand digital services have created for innovative programming.

One metric that grabbed our attention is the sharp increase in the number of people visiting DIY's Web site. As of January 2003, an average 1.1 million people a month were visiting DIYnet.com. That's double last year's level, which means that, for now, DIYnet.com usage is growing at a faster rate than the television component. That's just fine with us. We designed DIYnet.com as a stand-alone brand to build consumer awareness ahead of the television network. We're also building DIY by marketing DIY-branded content to local broadcasters. "DIY Local" programming now airs in 29 markets – including all nine Scripps broadcast TV markets – extending the brand to within reach of 20 percent of U.S. television households.

DIY and Fine Living, we believe, are on attractive growth trajectories and merit continued investment of our time and capital.

VOD and Hispanic programming Looking at other Scripps Networks initiatives, we're tapping our archives of 15,000 hours of original programming from all of our networks to fill the cable television industry's growing demand for quality, video-on-demand (VOD) content. We're also exploring a new Hispanic television programming service that would feature culturally relevant content created around the home, garden and food categories. We're still working out the details, including talking to potential partners, on how our Hispanic programming would be delivered. We anticipate that our investment in the combination of DIY, Fine Living, VOD and Spanish language content will reduce segment profits by about $50 million in 2003.

Expanding Scripps Networks continues to be our top strategic priority. We believe investing capital in the internal development of these attractive media assets – built upon high-quality content – offers shareholders the best potential for a superior return over time. We intend to stay the course.

Shop At Home We'll also be working during 2003 to more closely align the Shop At Home Network's retail product mix with the interests and consumer categories targeted by our lifestyle programming services. We acquired Shop At Home on Oct. 31 with the intention of diversifying the advertising and marketing opportunities Scripps can offer to its advertisers. Shop At Home also provided us, we believe, with an attractive entry point into the rapidly growing television retailing industry. For about $50 million, we acquired control of a solid business – including first-class production and technical facilities – that we believe has great potential for growth.

Scripps Networks and our foray into TV retailing aren't the whole story, though. The company's newspapers and broadcast television stations also reported solid results for the year.

Newspapers The Scripps newspaper group outperformed the industry again, reporting a 14 percent year-over-year increase in segment profits. The improvement is primarily attributable to the turnaround we've helped engineer at our newspaper in Denver – the Rocky Mountain News.

Denver In 2002 we completed our first full year publishing the News as part of a joint operating agreement (JOA) with MediaNews Group's Denver Post, in which Scripps receives 50 percent of the profits from both newspapers. Cost savings and measured rate adjustments achieved during 2002 resulted in Denver contributing $9.4 million to segment profits. That's a $23 million positive swing, reversing a $13 million loss in 2001.

The improvement came despite continued sluggishness in Denver's local economy, which had an especially negative effect on help wanted classified advertising sales. Help wanted revenues were down 34 percent in the Denver market, which provides some perspective on the success the Denver JOA had generating revenues in other newspaper advertising categories. Long-term, we have confidence in the resiliency of the Denver market and believe that the JOA – managed by the Denver Newspaper Agency – is in an excellent position to capitalize on even the slightest up-tick in the local economic cycle.

Editorially, the Rocky Mountain News continued to excel, sweeping the Colorado Associated Press newspaper competition in 2002, including winning best of show and general excellence honors. All of our newspapers strive for editorial excellence and are the premier sources of news and information in the communities they serve.

Other newspapers On the financial performance side, excluding Denver, the balance of our newspaper group reported modest growth, but still outperformed the industry. Newspaper revenues, excluding Denver, were up about 1 percent to $682 million and segment profits increased 4 percent to $261 million. Scripps newspapers benefited from lower newsprint prices and their geographic location in smaller to mid-sized markets that have been insulated somewhat from the worst of the economic downturn. Most of our local newspapers did not experience as severe a decline in help wanted advertising as did their bigger city peers.

Broadcast television At our local television stations, strong political advertising drove the division's segment profits up to $98.1 million, a 23 percent increase over the prior year. Total broadcast television revenues were up 10 percent. Political advertising revenues for 2002 were $23.7 million, a Scripps station group record for a non-presidential election year. The strong political advertising revenues can be attributed to spirited campaigns in several of our key markets and a successful sales strategy. Our station group deserves credit for persuading candidates that demographically, the Scripps stations were a smart advertising buy. The political campaign wasn't all about dollars and cents, though. We also raised our station group's community service profile by providing candidates more than 2,000 minutes of free air time through our Democracy 2002 initiative.

While the boost our stations receive from political advertising every two years is always welcomed, we're also encouraged by positive underlying TV advertising trends that continued to tick upward after the votes were counted. Local television advertising revenues for the last two months of 2002 were up about 8 percent, year-over-year. The improved TV advertising trends have continued into early 2003.

It's also important to note that our stations have done an admirable job in a difficult economic environment attracting new and "non-traditional" local advertisers to television. We define "new and non-traditional" as advertisers who have never advertised on television before, or those who haven't advertised on television during the preceding 12 months. The Scripps stations generated $23 million in new business in 2002, including non-traditional advertising revenues.

United Media Our syndication and licensing business, United Media, also had a good year. United Media, which is home to such well-known comic strips and properties as PEANUTS, DILBERT and Precious Moments, generated $90.3 million in revenue in 2002, up slightly from 2001. United Media contributed $17.3 million in segment profits to the company's consolidated results, up 16 percent year-over-year. The continued popularity of the PEANUTS characters (especially Snoopy) in Asia; Scott Adams' new book, Dilbert and The Way of the Weasel;" and the global expansion of the Precious Moments licensing business contributed to another solid year for United Media.

By just about every measure, 2002 was a great year for Scripps.

Balance sheet The company ended the year with a solid balance sheet. Long-term debt stood at $725 million as of Dec. 31, less than two times our 2002 total segment profits. We've taken advantage of the current interest rate environment by locking in some low rates and replacing some of our commercial paper borrowings with more fixed-rate debt.

We've also made the necessary adjustments to our pension plans to better reflect the value of our investments in the current equities market. In 2002, we contributed roughly $40 million to our plans and anticipate contributing as much as $40 million more in 2003. We're also changing our accounting assumptions for the plans, reflecting a more conservative set of expectations going forward. We've reduced our expected return on pension plan assets from 9.5 percent to 8.25 percent and decreased the discount rate from 7.5 percent to 6.5 percent.

Kenneth W. Lowe

William R. Burleigh

The steps we've taken will increase our pension expense by just more than $12 million in 2003, but with these changes, we feel the plan is well positioned, and we don't anticipate any further financial exposure going forward.

We'll also be spending more in 2003 on capital projects, including a new printing plant that will be shared by our three newspapers on Florida's Treasure Coast and a new building for our television station in Cincinnati to make way for the expansion of the city's convention center. Capital expenditures for 2003 will be about $100 million compared to $88 million in 2002.

Finally, in this day of Sarbanes-Oxley and the crisis in confidence in the public securities markets, we'd like to share our philosophy on corporate governance and full financial disclosure.

As a media company built on the hallowed principles of journalistic excellence and integrity, Scripps, as a public company, has practiced full disclosure since long before the concept was in vogue. With our signatures in 2002, we certified the company's financial results without the slightest hesitation because of the confidence we have in the company's fiscally conservative policies and practices. That's another legacy that E.W. Scripps left us. For him, and for those of us privileged enough to serve as managers of the enterprise he founded, it has always been a matter of doing the right thing. Mr. Scripps wouldn't have had it any other way and neither would we.

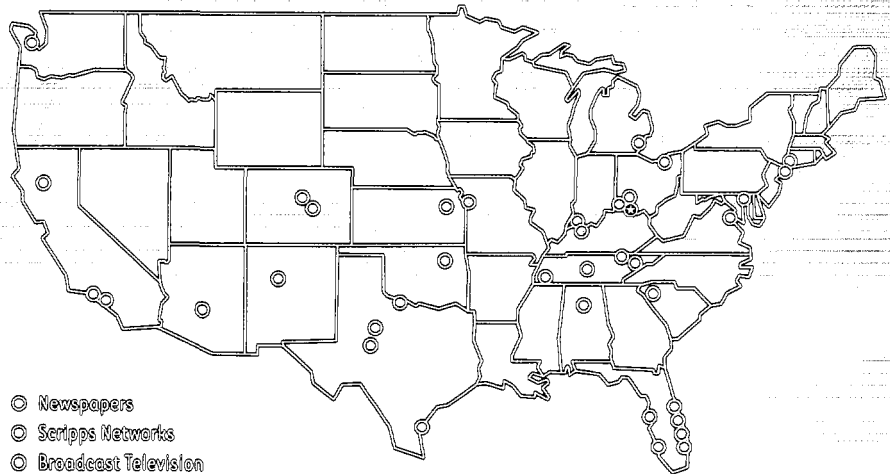

As always, we value the confidence and trust you've placed in us to guide this company. Our pledge to you is that we will do all in our power to act in the best interest of all Scripps stakeholders.

Sincerely,

Kenneth W. Lowe

PART I

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

We are a diversified media company operating in four reportable business segments: newspaper publishing, cable and satellite television programming services ("Scripps Networks"), broadcast television and television retailing ("Shop At Home"). Licensing and other media aggregates our operating segments that are too small to warrant separate reporting, primarily syndication and licensing of news features and comics.

Newspapers include 21 daily newspapers in the U.S.

Scripps Networks includes four national television networks that are distributed by cable and satellite television systems: Home & Garden Television ("HGTV"), Food Network, Fine Living and DIY - Do It Yourself Network ("DIY"). Scripps Networks also includes our 12% interest in FOX Sports Net South, a regional television network. We have announced plans to develop a subscription-based video-on-demand service featuring the programming of our four national television networks and to develop a programming service focusing on Hispanic lifestyle and interests.

Broadcast television includes ten television stations, nine of which are affiliated with national broadcast television networks.

Newspapers, Scripps Networks, and broadcast television rely upon advertising as a primary source of revenue. Advertising comprises 70% to 75% of our total revenues.

We acquired a 70% controlling interest in Shop At Home on October 31, 2002. Shop At Home markets a range of consumer goods to television viewers and through its Internet site. Shop At Home programming is distributed under the terms of affiliation agreements with broadcast television stations and cable and satellite television systems. Substantially all of Shop At Home's revenues are derived from the sale of merchandise.

A summary of segment information for the three years ended December 31, 2002, is set forth on page F-46 of this Form 10-K.

Newspapers

Operations - We publish 21 daily newspapers. From our Washington bureau we operate the Scripps Howard News Service, a supplemental wire service covering stories in the capital, other parts of the United States and abroad.

A joint operating agency ("JOA") between our Denver Rocky Mountain News ("RMN") and MediaNews Group, Inc.'s ("MediaNews") Denver Post (the "Denver JOA") was approved by the U.S. Attorney General in January 2001. The Denver Publishing Company, our wholly-owned subsidiary, received a 50% interest in the Denver JOA in exchange for the contribution of most of its assets to the Denver JOA and the payment of $60 million to MediaNews.

In addition to forming the Denver JOA, we acquired or divested the following newspaper operations in the five years ended December 31, 2002:

- 2000 - Acquired the Ft. Pierce, Florida, daily newspaper in exchange for our Destin, Florida, newspaper and cash. Acquired the Henderson, Kentucky, daily newspaper and the Marco Island, Florida, weekly newspaper.
- 1998 - Divested the Dallas Community newspapers, including the Plano daily newspaper. The Dallas Community newspapers were acquired in 1997 along with the daily newspapers in Abilene, Corpus Christi, San Angelo and Wichita Falls, Texas, and a daily newspaper in Anderson, South Carolina.

Excluding divested operating units and RMN revenues prior to the formation of the Denver JOA, our newspapers produced approximately 44% of our total operating revenues in 2002, down from 53% in 1998.

Our newspapers operate Internet sites focusing on local news content. The Internet sites include expanded coverage of stories in the newspapers and content that is not in the newspapers.

Many of our newspapers have introduced additional advertising services such as total-market-coverage products and direct-mail advertising. We expect continued growth in advertising revenues from such products. Certain of our daily newspapers also provide commercial printing services.

Revenues - Operating revenues for our newspapers and our share of profits of JOAs for the five years ended December 31, 2002, are presented below. Our financial statements do not include the advertising and other revenue of the Denver JOA. To enhance comparability of year-over-year results, RMN revenue prior to the formation of the Denver JOA is reported separately.

Run-of-paper ("ROP") advertisements are included with news stories in the body of the newspaper. ROP is further broken down among "local," "classified" and "national" advertising. Local refers to advertising that is not in the classified advertising section and is purchased by in-market advertisers. Classified refers to advertising that generally is grouped by type of advertising, e.g., automotive and help wanted. National refers to advertising purchased by businesses that operate beyond the local market and purchase advertising from many newspapers, primarily through advertising agencies.

Preprinted advertisements are generally produced by advertisers and inserted into the newspaper.

Preprint and other advertising revenues also include advertising appearing on our newspaper Internet sites, total-market-coverage advertising and direct-mail advertising. Internet advertising ranges from simple static banners that appear at the top and bottom of a page to more complex advertisements that use animation and allow users to interact with the advertisements. Internet advertising revenues were $8.3 million in 2002, $6.5 million in 2001, $7.2 million in 2000, $4.7 million in 1999 and $1.7 million in 1998. Revenue from direct-mail, total-market-coverage and other advertising products was $19.5 million in 2002, $16.4 million in 2001, $16.4 million in 2000, $8.6 million in 1999 and $6.7 million in 1998.

A given volume of ROP advertisements is generally more profitable to us than the same volume of preprinted advertisements.

Contracts with advertisers, which are typically for one-year terms, may provide for discounted rates based upon advertising volume.

Advertising rates and revenues vary among our newspapers depending on circulation, type of advertising, local market conditions and competition. Declines in advertising spending, particularly in recessionary periods, adversely affect our business.

The first and third quarters generally have lower advertising revenues than the second and fourth quarters. Print advertising rates and volume are highest on Sundays, primarily because circulation and readership is greatest on Sundays.

Circulation revenues are derived from home-delivery sales of newspapers to subscribers and from single-copy sales made through retail outlets and vending machines.

Joint Operating Agencies - A JOA combines all but the editorial operations of two competing newspapers in a market in order to reduce aggregate expenses and take advantage of economies of scale, thereby allowing the continuing operation of both newspapers in that market. The Newspaper Preservation Act of 1970 ("NPA") provides a limited exemption from anti-trust laws, generally permitting the continuance of JOAs in existence prior to the enactment of the NPA and the formation, under certain circumstances, of new JOAs between newspapers.

We are a partner in JOAs in four markets. The Denver JOA is jointly managed by each of the partners. We do not share management responsibilities for each of our three other JOAs.

JOA revenues less JOA expenses, as defined in each JOA, equals JOA operating profits. In each case JOA expenses exclude editorial costs and expenses. JOA operating profits are split between the partners according to the terms of the JOA agreement. We receive a 50% share of the operating profits of the Denver JOA, and between 20% and 40% of the operating profits in the other three markets. We have a residual interest in the net assets of the Albuquerque and Denver JOAs, but do not have a residual interest in the net assets of the Birmingham and Cincinnati JOAs.

Our share of JOA operating profits is reported as "Equity in earnings of JOAs and other joint ventures" in our consolidated financial statements. The related editorial costs and expenses are included in "Costs and expenses."

The table below provides certain information about our JOAs.

Newspaper Production - Our daily newspapers are printed using offset presses and use computer systems for writing, editing, composing and producing our newspapers. We completed construction of a new production facility for our Knoxville, Tennessee, daily newspaper in 2002 and began constructing a new production facility for our Treasure Coast newspapers in 2002.

Raw Materials and Labor Costs - We consumed approximately 141,000 metric tons of newsprint in 2002 and 140,000 metric tons in 2001. Over the past several years our newspapers have converted to a 50-inch web format. Implementation of a 50-inch web format reduced newsprint consumption by approximately 5% compared to consumption under previous web formats.

We purchase newsprint from various suppliers, many of which are Canadian. We believe our sources of supply of newsprint are adequate for our anticipated needs. Newsprint is a basic commodity and its price is sensitive to the worldwide balance of supply and demand. Because of the capital commitment to construct and operate a newsprint mill, the supply of newsprint is relatively stable except for temporary disruptions caused by labor stoppages. However, the demand for newsprint can change quickly, resulting in wide swings in its price. Newsprint prices fluctuated between $420 and $590 per metric ton from 1998 through 2002. The average newsprint price was in the lower portion of that range during the fourth quarter of 2002. Certain of our newsprint suppliers announced $50 per metric ton price increases effective March 1, 2003.

During 2002 we established Media Procurement Services ("MPS"), a wholly-owned subsidiary company. MPS provides newsprint procurement services for our newspapers and other non-affiliated newspapers. MPS provides us the ability to negotiate favorable pricing with newsprint suppliers due to increased purchasing power and by providing suppliers with improved production scheduling and more efficient newsprint delivery. We expect this to continue as the volume increases from additional clients. We receive a fee for the procurement services we provide non-affiliated newspapers.

Labor costs accounted for approximately 56% of our newspaper segment costs and expenses in 2002. Excluding RMN pre Denver JOA costs and expenses, labor costs accounted for approximately 53% of our newspaper segment costs and expenses in 2001 and 51% in 2000. A substantial number of our newspaper employees are represented by labor unions. See "Employees."

Competition - Our newspapers compete for advertising revenues primarily with other local media, including other local newspapers, broadcast television and radio stations, cable television systems, telephone directories, other Internet sites and direct mail. Competition from electronic communications services, such as the Internet, is increasing, particularly in help-wanted, real estate and automotive classified advertising. Our newspapers offer advertisers the opportunity to distribute their message through the Internet and we continue to develop Internet initiatives designed to maintain our competitive position. Competition for advertising revenues is based upon audience size and demographics, price and effectiveness.

Our newspapers and Internet sites compete with all other information and entertainment media for consumers' discretionary time.

Scripps Networks

Operations - Scripps Networks includes our four national television networks, and our 12% equity interest in FOX Sports Net South, a regional sports network.

Excluding divested operating units and RMN revenues prior to the formation of the Denver JOA from total operating revenues, Scripps Networks produced approximately 27% of our total operating revenues in 2002, up from 11% in 1998.

HGTV features programming focusing on home repair and remodeling, gardening, decorating and other activities associated with the home. HGTV began telecasting in December 1994. Food Network features programming focusing on food and entertaining. Food Network began telecasting in December 1993 and we acquired a controlling interest in 1997. Fine Living, which began telecasting in March 2002, targets an upper demographic audience and advertisers in the luxury consumer goods and services markets. DIY features step-by-step instructions, in-depth demonstrations and tips on various topics associated with home improvement, gardening and crafts. DIY began telecasting in the fourth quarter of 1999.

Each of our networks operates an Internet site featuring content from its programs and additional information and products of interest to its viewers. The Internet sites also permit users to post comments in response to programs and features, and provide applications to enable users to communicate with each other and receive updates in subject areas of their choosing.

We own an approximate 70% residual interest in Food Network and an approximate 90% residual interest in Fine Living. Certain minority owners in Fine Living have the right to require us to repurchase their ownership interest beginning in 2006 at the then fair market value. We have a corresponding right to purchase the minority interest.

Approximately 87 million homes in the United States are reached by cable and satellite television systems, according to the Nielsen Homevideo Index ("Nielsen"). Certain homes may receive cable and satellite television networks from more than one source, so the number of cable and satellite television households may not represent unique homes. Information concerning the national reach of our networks is as follows:

National Television Network	Homes reached in the month of December (1)
	2002	2001	2000	1999	1998
HGTV	80.4	76.4	67.1	59.0	48.4
Food Network	78.2	71.5	54.4	44.2	37.1
Fine Living	12.7
DIY	12.9	9.2	1.9

(1) The number of homes that receive cable television networks according to Nielsen. Fine Living and DIY are not rated by Nielsen. Homes reached for those networks represent comparable amounts as calculated by us.

As HGTV and Food Network reach full distribution our focus has turned from gaining distribution to increasing viewership. Prime time (Monday through Sunday from 8:00 pm to 11:00 pm) viewership of HGTV and Food Network has increased more than five-fold in the past five years. We believe our commitment to provide quality original programming is a key to the continued increased viewership of our networks.

We expect to increase distribution of Fine Living and DIY to approximately 20 million homes in 2003.

We joined with Time Warner Cable to launch a joint video-on-demand ("VOD") trial in November 2001 on Time Warner digital cable homes in Cincinnati, Ohio. The initial VOD package included a total of 60 hours of programming from HGTV, Food Network and DIY. In October 2002, we announced plans to expand our VOD agreement to cover 30 Time Warner cable television systems across the United States and to Comcast's Philadelphia cable television system. The on-demand packages in these new markets are currently offered free-of-charge. We expect to continue our efforts to develop a subscription-based VOD model.

We are also developing plans for a programming service focusing on Hispanic lifestyle and interests.

Revenues - Operating revenues for the five years ended December 31, 2002, were as follows:

(in thousands)
	2002	2001	2000	1999	1998
Advertising	$ 330,806	$ 272,299	$ 249,619	$ 169,959	$ 96,271
Network affiliate fees, net	78,662	59,175	40,312	34,149	22,366
Other	5,934	5,721	5,750	8,814	14,307
Total operating revenues	$ 415,402	$ 337,195	$ 295,681	$ 212,922	$ 132,944

Advertising purchased on our networks primarily seeks to promote nationally recognized consumer products and brands. Advertising time on the networks is sold in both the up-front and scatter markets. The mix between the up-front and scatter markets is based upon a number of factors, including the demand for advertising time, economic conditions and pricing.

Advertising contracts generally have terms of one year or less and may guarantee the advertisements will reach a minimum audience level over the term of the contract. If the minimum audience level is not met, the advertiser will receive additional advertising time. The ability to sell advertising and the rates received are dependent primarily on the size and demographics of the audience, as well as overall demand for advertising time. Declines in advertising spending, particularly in recessionary periods, adversely affect our business.

Internet advertising primarily includes banner ads and other advertisements. Advertising opportunities on the Internet sites range from simple static banners that appear at the top and bottom of a page to more complex advertisements that use animation and allow users to interact with the advertisements. The Internet sites also provide advertisers with sponsorship opportunities, promotions, direct response campaigns and links to commercial sites. Internet advertising revenues were $6.4 million in 2002, $3.9 million in 2001, $5.1 million in 2000, $3.4 million in 1999 and $0.7 million in 1998.

The first and third quarters generally have lower advertising revenues than the second and fourth quarters.

Cable and satellite television systems generally pay a per-subscriber fee for the right to distribute our programming. Food Network's initial distribution contracts generally provide the network to cable television systems without charge through 2003. Network affiliate fee revenues are reported net of incentives granted in exchange for long-term distribution contracts. See "Distribution."

Programming - The cost of programming is a significant portion of our operating expenses. We both own and license the programming that airs on our networks. We have continually improved the quality and variety of programming and expanded the hours of original programming presented on our networks. The expense recognized for owned and licensed programs totaled $111.9 million in 2002, $92.4 million in 2001, $71.6 million in 2000, $46.2 million in 1999 and $30.7 million in 1998.

We transmit our programming to cable and satellite television systems via satellite. Transponder rights are acquired under the terms of long-term contracts with satellite owners.

Distribution - Our networks are distributed by cable and satellite television systems under the terms of long-term distribution contracts. We may make cash payments to cable and satellite television systems and may provide an initial period in which payment of affiliate fees by the systems is waived in exchange for such long-term distribution contracts. In markets where we have broadcast television stations, distribution of the networks may also be obtained in exchange for granting cable or satellite television systems the right to carry the local television stations' signals.

The four largest cable and satellite television systems provide service to more than 60% of homes receiving HGTV and Food Network, while the eight largest provide service to more than 90% of such homes. The loss of distribution by any of these cable and satellite television systems would adversely affect our business. While no assurance can be given regarding renewal of our distribution contracts, we have historically successfully renewed expiring distribution agreements for HGTV and Food Network.

Competition - In addition to competing with other networks for distribution on cable and satellite television systems, we compete for advertising revenues with other local and national media, including other cable television networks, television stations, radio stations, newspapers, Internet sites and direct mail. Competition for advertising revenues is based upon audience size and demographics, price and effectiveness. We compete for consumers' discretionary time with all other information and entertainment media.

Broadcast Television

Operations - Broadcast television includes ten television stations, nine of which are affiliated with national broadcast television networks.

We acquired television station KMCI in Lawrence, Kansas, in 2000. We had operated the station under a Local Marketing Agreement ("LMA") since 1996. Revenues from KMCI were included in our results of operations while the station was operated under the LMA.

Excluding divested operating units and RMN revenues prior to the formation of the Denver JOA from total operating revenues, our broadcast television stations produced approximately 20% of our total operating revenues in 2002, down from 28% in 1998.

Revenues - Operating revenues for the five years ended December 31, 2002, were as follows:

(in thousands)
	2002	2001	2000	1999	1998
Local advertising	$ 171,301	$ 162,761	$ 173,878	$ 171,353	$ 166,115
National advertising	95,497	96,866	119,428	120,638	125,432
Political advertising	23,703	2,400	34,762	2,478	20,084
Network compensation	8,044	9,279	9,951	13,121	16,040
Other	6,609	6,295	5,106	4,772	3,043
Total operating revenues	$ 305,154	$ 277,601	$ 343,125	$ 312,362	$ 330,714

Local and national advertising refer to time purchased by local, regional and national businesses; political refers to time purchased by campaigns for elective office and campaigns for political issues. Automobile advertising accounts for approximately one-fourth of our local and national advertising revenues.

Advertising rates are dependent primarily on the size and demographics of the audience, as well as overall demand for advertising time. Declines in advertising spending, particularly in recessionary periods, adversely affect our business.

The first and third quarters of each year generally have lower advertising revenues than the second and fourth quarters. The magnitude of political advertising in even-numbered years, when congressional and presidential elections occur, makes it difficult to achieve year-over-year increases in operating results in odd-numbered years.

Our Detroit television station recently began producing a newscast and selling the advertising within the newscast for another station in the Detroit market. Certain of our stations may also manage operations for other television stations in their markets. We share the profits from these initiatives with the other stations.

Network Affiliation and Programming - Nine of our ten television stations are affiliated with national television networks. The networks offer a variety of programs to affiliated stations, which have a limited right of first refusal before such programming may be offered to other television stations in the same market. Networks sell most of the advertising within the programs and may compensate affiliated stations for carrying network programming. Affiliated television stations may share in the cost of certain network programming, which is deducted from such compensation.

In 2001, we renegotiated and extended our network affiliation agreements with NBC, which were originally scheduled to expire in 2004. Network compensation is sharply reduced under the new agreements, which expire in 2010. Our three NBC affiliates recognized $0.3 million in network compensation revenue in 2002, $1.4 million in 2001 and $2.4 million in 2000. Our ABC affiliation agreements expire in 2004 through 2006.

In addition to network programs, our television stations broadcast locally produced programs, syndicated programs, sports events, movies, public service programs and "niche" programs focusing on topics of interest in the stations' local markets. The costs of locally produced and syndicated programming are a significant portion of broadcast television operating expenses. The price of syndicated programming is based primarily upon demand for the programming from other television stations within the market.

News is the focus of our locally produced programming. Advertising during local news programs accounts for approximately 30% of total operating revenues.

Information concerning our stations, their network affiliations and the markets in which they operate is as follows:

All market and audience data is based on the November Nielsen survey.

- (1) Rank of Market represents the relative size of the television market in the United States.
- (2) Represents the number of television households tuned to a specific station from 6 a.m. to 2 a.m. each day, as a percentage of total viewing households in the Designated Market Area.
- (3) Stations in Market does not include public broadcasting stations, satellite stations, or translators which rebroadcast signals from distant stations.
- (4) Station Rank in Market is based on Average Audience Share as described in (2).
- (5) Barring technical difficulties, stations are expected to commence DTV service by June 2003. Due to new tower construction requirements, we received an extension for KSHB-TV and KMCI-TV.

Competition - Our television stations compete for advertising revenues primarily with other local media, including other television stations, radio stations, cable television systems, newspapers, other Internet sites and direct mail. Competition for advertising revenue is based upon audience size and demographics, price and effectiveness. Television stations compete for consumers' discretionary time with all other information and entertainment media.

Our television stations have experienced declines in their average audience share in recent years due to the creation of new networks and increased audience share of alternative service providers such as traditional cable, "wireless" cable and direct broadcast satellite television. Continuing technological advances will improve the capability of alternative service providers to offer video services in competition with terrestrial broadcasting. The degree of competition from such service providers is expected to increase. We intend to undertake upgrades in our services, including development of digital television broadcasting, to maintain our competitive posture as well as to comply with government requirements. Technological advances in interactive media services will further increase these competitive pressures.

Our stations have emphasized locally produced news and entertainment programming in recent years to distinguish the stations from the competition and to control programming costs.

Federal Regulation of Broadcasting - Broadcast television is subject to the jurisdiction of the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") pursuant to the Communications Act of 1934, as amended ("Communications Act"). The Communications Act prohibits the operation of broadcast television stations except in accordance with a license issued by the FCC and empowers the FCC to revoke, modify and renew broadcast television licenses, approve the transfer of control of any entity holding such licenses, determine the location of stations, regulate the equipment used by stations and adopt and enforce necessary regulations. The FCC also enforces regulations concerning programming, including children's and political programming, and it recently adopted new rules affecting stations' employment practices.

The Telecommunications Act of 1996 (the "1996 Act") significantly relaxed the regulatory environment applicable to broadcasters. Under the 1996 Act, broadcast television licenses may be granted for a term of eight years, rather than five, and they remain renewable upon request. While there can be no assurance regarding the renewal of our broadcast television licenses, we have never had a license revoked, have never been denied a renewal and all previous renewals have been for the maximum term.

FCC regulations govern the multiple ownership of television stations and other media. Under the multiple ownership rule, a license for a television station will generally not be granted or renewed if the grant of the license would result in (i) the applicant owning more than one television station, or in some markets under certain conditions, more than two television stations in the same market, or (ii) the grant of the license would result in the applicant's owning, operating, controlling, or having an interest in television stations whose total national audience reach exceeds 35% of all television households. The FCC rules also generally prohibit "cross-ownership" of a television station and a daily newspaper in the same community. Our television station and daily newspaper in Cincinnati were owned by us at the time the cross-ownership rule was enacted and enjoy "grandfathered" status. These properties would become subject to the cross-ownership rule upon their sale. The 1996 Act directed the FCC to review all its media ownership rules biennially, and a major review of these rules, including the newspaper/broadcast television cross-ownership rule is now underway. At the direction of the D.C. Circuit Court of Appeals the FCC is also reconsidering its decision in 2000 not to rescind or relax the limit on television station owners' national audience reach.

The FCC has adopted a series of orders to implement a transition from the current analog system of broadcast television to a digital transmission system. It granted each television station a second channel on which to begin offering digital service and it set out a timetable for completing the transition by 2006, when it is expected that one of these channels would be returned. Most observers now believe that this deadline will be extended.

A substantial number of technical, regulatory and market-related issues remain unresolved regarding the transition to digital television. These issues include uncertainty as to the timing of the transition, what rules the FCC may adopt affecting broadcasters' use of their spectrum, cable operators' obligation to carry broadcasters' digital offerings, equipment manufacturers' obligation to offer digital tuners on new television receivers, and the level of consumer demand for the new services. We cannot predict the effect of these uncertainties on our offering of digital service or our business.

Under the Cable Television Consumer Protection and Competition Act of 1992, broadcast television stations gained "must-carry" rights on any cable television system defined as "local" with respect to the station. Stations may waive their must-carry rights and instead negotiate retransmission consent agreements with local cable companies. Our stations have generally elected to negotiate retransmission consent agreements with cable companies. While the FCC has announced that a station's primary video transmission will enjoy must-carry rights after the transition to digital broadcasting, the FCC has so far declined to require carriage of a digital signal in addition to the station's analog signal.

Shop At Home

Operations - On October 31, 2002, we completed a transaction with Summit America Television, Inc. ("Summit America," formerly Shop At Home, Inc.) that resulted in our acquiring a 70% controlling interest in the Shop At Home television-retailing network. Shop At Home markets a range of consumer goods to television viewers and through its Internet site.

Our programming is distributed by broadcast television stations and by cable and satellite television systems on a full-time or part-time basis. Shop At Home can be viewed in more than 170 television markets, including 97 of the 100 largest television markets.

Distribution during the past five years was as follows:

(in millions)	2002	2001	2000	1999	1998
Average full-time equivalent homes reached	42.1	29.7	24.5	19.2	14.1

Certain broadcast stations and cable television systems carry Shop At Home programming on a part-time basis. We use a cable and satellite television household full-time equivalent method to measure the reach of our programming, accounting for both the quantity and quality of time available.

Acquiring Shop At Home provides us with the means to quickly gain scale in a growing market. We expect to leverage our expertise as a diverse media company to expand distribution and to offer a wider range of products. Acquiring Shop At Home also enables us to provide a video commerce platform to our advertisers.

Revenues - Operating revenues in November and December 2002 totaled $42.3 million.

Operating revenues in the five years ended December 31, 2002, which includes periods in which Shop At Home was owned by Summit America, were as follows:

(in thousands)	2002	2001	2000	1999	1998

Merchandise Sales. We market jewelry, electronics, beauty and fitness, collectibles and other products to consumers. We expect to expand product offerings, particularly in cookware and other products for the home.

Viewers can order any product offered by us, subject to availability. Orders can be placed 24 hours a day, seven days a week, over the Internet, with telephone representatives or through an automated touch tone system via our toll-free number. A majority of customers pay for their purchases by credit card; however, we also accept money orders, checks, debit cards or electronic funds transfers.

Shipping. Customer orders are shipped as promptly as possible after taking the order, using either ground or priority delivery services. Products are shipped from our warehouse facility or are drop-shipped by selected vendors from their facilities.

Customer Relations. We maintain a customer service department to address customer inquiries regarding products, shipping dates and billing information. We strive to continually improve our customer service and make regular price and service comparisons with our competitors.

We offer our customers a full refund for merchandise returned within 30 days of purchase.

Cyclicality. Retail sales typically decline in recessionary periods, adversely affecting our business.

Seasonality. Our business is somewhat seasonal, with sales made in the fourth quarter typically being the highest for the year.

Programming and Presentation of Merchandise - Programming is segmented based upon product or theme categories, and is produced in a digital format from our studio and technical facilities in Nashville, Tennessee. Our facilities permit the production of simultaneous live shows. Selected programming is replayed on Shop At Home's Internet site.

A show-host approach is used with the host conveying information about the products and demonstrating use of the products. We seek to differentiate our programming from other television-retail programming by using an informal, personal style of presentation and by offering unique products.

Products and Merchandise - We purchase merchandise from numerous vendors. Certain products are available through multiple suppliers. We also acquire specialty products from a select group of vendors and believe we will be able to continue to identify sources of specialty products.

The mix of products and source of merchandise depend on a variety of factors including price and availability. We monitor product sales and revise our product offerings to maintain an attractive product mix. We continually evaluate new products and vendors to broaden our merchandise selection.

We generally do not have long-term commitments with our vendors, and a variety of sources are available for each category of merchandise sold. In 2002, products purchased from three vendors in two different product categories accounted for 23%, 15% and 12% of net sales. We believe we could find alternative sources for these products if the vendors ceased supplying merchandise.

Network Distribution - Our programming is telecast nationally under the terms of affiliation agreements with broadcast television stations and cable and satellite television systems, some of which carry our programming on a part-time basis. Agreements with broadcast television stations and cable television systems typically are for one-year terms with automatic renewal unless either party gives a 30-day notice prior to the end of the term.

We have a three-year affiliation agreement with Summit America to carry Shop At Home programming on Summit America's broadcast television stations located in San Francisco, Boston, Cleveland, Raleigh and Bridgeport, Connecticut. Summit America has the right to terminate these agreements after January 31, 2004.

Affiliation agreements with satellite television systems are multi-year agreements that may be terminated prior to their expiration under limited circumstances. Affiliates are paid a fee based upon the number of cable and direct broadcast satellite households reached by the affiliate.

While there can be no assurances as to renewal of our affiliation agreements or that such agreements will not be terminated prior to their expiration, our experience has been that our affiliation agreements are continued for long periods.

Competition - Television retailing is a rapidly expanding industry. We compete with three other large public companies and many smaller television retailers. We compete with QVC, HSN and ShopNBC in nearly all of the television markets in which our programming is available. QVC and HSN are the revenue leaders in the industry and each reaches a larger percentage of U.S. television households than Shop At Home.

We also compete with store, catalogue and Internet retailers.

Licensing and Other Media

Operations - Licensing and other media aggregates our operating segments that are too small to warrant separate reporting, including syndication and licensing of news features and comics, and the divested television program production and independent telephone directories.

We acquired or divested the following operations in the five years ended December 31, 2002:

- 2000 - Divested independent telephone directories in Memphis, Tennessee; Kansas City, Missouri; North Palm Beach, Florida; and New Orleans, Louisiana.
- 1998 - Acquired the independent telephone directories. Divested Scripps Howard Productions, our television program production operation based in Los Angeles.

Revenues - Operating revenues for the five years ended December 31, 2002, were as follows:

(in thousands)
	2002	2001	2000	1999	1998
Licensing	$ 68,402	$ 65,877	$ 68,549	$ 63,755	$ 62,260

Under the trade name United Media, we are a leading distributor of news columns, comics and other features for the newspaper industry. Newspapers typically pay a weekly fee for their use of the features. Included among these features is "Peanuts," one of the most successful strips in the history of comic art.

United Media owns and licenses worldwide copyrights relating to "Peanuts," "Dilbert" and other character properties for use on numerous products, including plush toys, greeting cards and apparel, for promotional purposes and for exhibit on television and other media. Charles Schulz, the creator of "Peanuts," died in February 2000. We continue syndication of previously published "Peanuts" strips, and retain the rights to license the characters. "Peanuts" provides approximately 88% of our licensing revenues. Approximately 64% of licensing revenues are earned in international markets, with the Japanese market providing approximately two-thirds of international revenue.

Merchandise, literary and exhibition licensing revenues are generally a negotiated percentage of the licensee's sales. We generally negotiate a fixed fee for the use of our copyrighted characters for promotional and advertising purposes. We generally pay a percentage of gross syndication and licensing royalties to the creators of these properties.

We also represent the owners of other copyrights and trademarks, including Raggedy Ann and Precious Moments, in the U.S. and international markets. Services offered include negotiation of licensing agreements, enforcement of licensing agreements and collection of royalties. We typically retain a percentage of the licensing royalties.

Competition - Our newspaper feature distribution operations compete for a limited amount of newspaper space with other distributors of news columns, comics and other features. Competition is primarily based on price and popularity of the features. Popularity of licensed characters is a primary factor in obtaining and renewing merchandise and promotional licenses.

Employees

As of December 31, 2002, we had approximately 7,700 full-time employees, of whom approximately 5,000 were with newspapers, 800 with Scripps Networks, 1,300 with broadcast television, 500 with Shop At Home and 100 with licensing and other media. Various labor unions represent approximately 1,300 employees, primarily in newspapers. We have not experienced any work stoppages at our current operations since 1985. We consider our relationships with our employees to be generally satisfactory.

ITEM 2. PROPERTIES

Newspapers require business and editorial offices and printing plants. We own substantially all of the facilities and equipment used in our newspaper publishing operations. In 2002 we completed construction of a new production facility for our Knoxville newspaper. We are currently constructing a new production facility for our Treasure Coast newspapers.

Scripps Networks requires offices and studios and other real and personal property to produce programs and to transmit the network programming via satellite. Scripps Networks operates from a production facility in Knoxville and leased facilities in New York and California. We obtain satellite transmission rights under long-term contracts with satellite owners. Substantially all other facilities and equipment are owned by Scripps Networks.

Broadcast television requires offices and studios and other real property for towers upon which broadcasting transmitters and antenna equipment are located. We own substantially all of the facilities and equipment used in our broadcast television operations. We own, or co-own with other broadcast television stations in the market, the towers used to transmit our television signal. We completed construction of a new facility for our West Palm Beach station in 2001. We will begin construction of a new facility for our Cincinnati station in 2003.

Shop At Home operates from facilities in Nashville, Tennessee. Shop At Home requires technical and television production facilities, offices, studios and leases warehouse facilities to store consumer products. We expect to expand Shop At Home's warehouse facilities as product offerings are expanded. We obtain satellite transmission rights under long-term contracts with satellite owners. Substantially all other facilities and equipment used are owned by Shop At Home.

We believe our facilities are generally well maintained and are sufficient to serve our present needs.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

We are involved in litigation arising in the ordinary course of business, such as defamation actions and various governmental and administrative proceedings primarily relating to renewal of broadcast licenses, none of which is expected to result in material loss.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

No matters were submitted to a vote of security holders during the fourth quarter of 2002.

Notes to Selected Financial Data

As used herein and in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, the terms "Scripps," "we," "our," or "us" may, depending on the context, refer to The E. W. Scripps Company, to one or more of its consolidated subsidiary companies, or to all of them taken as a whole.

The income statement and cash flow data for the eleven years ended December 31, 2002, and the balance sheet data as of the same dates have been derived from the audited consolidated financial statements of Scripps. The data should be read in conjunction with "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included elsewhere herein. All per share amounts are presented on a diluted basis.

(1) In the periods presented we acquired and divested the following:

Acquisitions

- 2002 - A 70% controlling interest in the Shop At Home television-retailing network. Additional 1.0% interest in Food Network.
- 2001 - Additional 4.0% interest in Food Network.
- 2000 - Daily newspapers in Ft. Pierce, Florida (in exchange for our newspaper in Destin, Florida, and cash) and Henderson, Kentucky; weekly newspaper in Marco Island, Florida; and television station KMCI in Lawrence, Kansas.
- 1999 - Additional 7.0% interest in Food Network.
- 1998 - Independent telephone directories in Memphis, Tennessee; Kansas City, Missouri; North Palm Beach, Florida; and New Orleans, Louisiana. Additional 1.0% interest in Food Network.
- 1997 - Daily newspapers in Abilene, Corpus Christi, Plano, San Angelo and Wichita Falls, Texas; Anderson, South Carolina; and Boulder, Colorado (in exchange for our daily newspapers in Monterey and San Luis Obispo, California); community newspapers in the Dallas, Texas, market and an approximate 56% controlling interest in Food Network.
- 1996 - Vero Beach, Florida, daily newspaper.
- 1994 - The remaining 13.9% minority interest in Scripps Howard Broadcasting Company ("SHB") in exchange for 4,952,659 Class A Common Shares. Cinetel Productions (an independent producer of programs for cable television).
- 1993 - The remaining 2.7% minority interest in the Knoxville News-Sentinel and 5.7% of the outstanding shares of SHB.
- 1992 - Three daily newspapers in California (including The Monterey County Herald in connection with the sale of The Pittsburgh Press).

Divestitures

- 2000 - Destin, Florida, newspaper (in exchange for Ft. Pierce, Florida, newspaper) and the independent yellow page directories. The divestitures resulted in net pre-tax gains of $6.2 million, increasing income from continuing operations by $4.0 million, $.05 per share.
- 1998 - Dallas community newspapers, including the Plano daily, and Scripps Howard Productions, our television program production operation based in Los Angeles, California. No material gain or loss was realized as proceeds approximated the book value of net assets sold.
- 1997 - Monterey and San Luis Obispo, California, daily newspapers (in exchange for Boulder, Colorado, daily newspaper). Terminated joint operating agency ("JOA") and ceased operations of El Paso, Texas, daily newspaper. The JOA termination and the newspaper trade resulted in pre-tax gains totaling $47.6 million, increasing income from continuing operations by $26.2 million, $.32 per share.
- 1995 - Watsonville, California, daily newspaper. No material gain or loss was realized as proceeds approximated the book value of net assets sold.

(2) Operating units other than cable television systems sold prior to December 31, 2002.

(3) The Denver JOA commenced operations on January 22, 2001. Our 50% share of the operating profit (loss) of the Denver JOA is reported as "Equity in earnings of JOAs and other joint ventures" in our financial statements. The editorial costs associated with the RMN are included in "Costs and expenses." Our financial statements do not include the advertising and other operating revenues of the Denver JOA, the costs to produce, distribute and market the newspapers or related depreciation. To enhance comparability of year-over-year operating results, we have removed the operating revenues of the RMN prior to the formation of the Denver JOA from our newspaper operating revenues and separately reported those revenues.

- (4) We adopted Financial Accounting Standard No. ("FAS") 142 - Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets effective January 1, 2002. Recorded goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives are no longer amortized, but instead are tested for impairment at least annually. Other intangible assets are reviewed for impairment in accordance with FAS 144. We have determined that there was no impairment of goodwill or other intangible assets on the date of adoption of FAS 142. Amortization of goodwill and other intangible assets with indefinite lives, primarily FCC licenses and broadcast television station network affiliation agreements, was as follows:

2001 - $38.1 million, $28.1 million after tax, $.35 per share.
 2000 - $35.8 million, $26.5 million after tax, $.33 per share.
 1999 - $34.7 million, $25.7 million after tax, $.33 per share.
 1998 - $35.0 million, $25.9 million after tax, $.32 per share.
 1997 - $21.8 million, $17.5 million after tax, $.21 per share.
 1996 - $17.3 million, $15.0 million after tax, $.19 per share.
 1995 - $15.1 million, $13.5 million after tax, $.17 per share.
 1994 - $14.0 million, $11.7 million after tax, $.15 per share.
 1993 - $14.0 million, $11.5 million after tax, $.15 per share.
 1992 - $14.0 million, $11.2 million after tax, $.15 per share.

- (5) Restructuring charges consist of the following:

2002 - The Denver JOA made plans to consolidate its office space and sold its excess real estate. The $3.9 million gain on the sale increased net income by $2.4 million, $.03 per share.
 2001 - Costs of $16.1 million associated with workforce reductions, including our $5.9 million share of such costs at the Denver JOA, reduced income from continuing operations by $10.1 million, $.13 per share.
 2000 - Expenses of $9.5 million associated with formation of the Denver JOA reduced income from continuing operations by $6.2 million, $.08 per share.
 1999 - Severance payments of $1.2 million to certain television station employees and $0.8 million of costs incurred to move Food Network's operations to a different location in Manhattan reduced income from continuing operations by $1.2 million, $.02 per share.
 1996 - A $4.0 million charge for our share of certain costs associated with restructuring portions of the distribution system of the Cincinnati JOA reduced income from continuing operations by $2.6 million, $.03 per share.
 1994 - We changed the network affiliation of our former FOX-affiliated television stations to one of the three primary national television networks, reducing our reliance on syndicated programming at those stations and requiring the construction of new production facilities to accommodate expanded local news programming. A $7.9 million loss on program rights and a $2.8 million loss on real estate expected to be sold as a result of the affiliation changes reduced income from continuing operations by $6.6 million, $.09 per share.
 1993 - Charges totaling $5.2 million at i) the RMN and ii) the newspaper feature and licensing operations of United Media reduced income from continuing operations by $2.9 million, $.04 per share.

- (6) A $4.3 million change in estimate of disputed music license fees increased income from continuing operations in 1993 by $2.3 million, $.03 per share.

- (7) Operating losses of $32.7 million during the Pittsburgh Press strike reduced income from continuing operations in 1992 by $20.2 million, $.27 per share.

- (8) Investment results include i) gains and losses from the sale or write-down of investments and ii) accrued incentive compensation and other expenses associated with the management of the Scripps Ventures investment portfolios. Investment results include the following:

2002 - Net realized losses of $79.7 million. Charges associated with winding down the Scripps Ventures investment funds were $3.6 million. Net investment results decreased income from continuing operations by $55.6 million, $.69 per share.
 2001 - Net realized losses of $2.9 million. Accrued incentive compensation was decreased $11.5 million, to zero, in connection with the decline in value of the Scripps Ventures I investment portfolio. Net investment results increased income from continuing operations by $3.8 million, $.05 per share.
 2000 - Net realized losses of $17.5 million. Accrued incentive compensation was increased $4.5 million, to $11.5 million. Net investment results reduced income from continuing operations by $15.8 million, $.20 per share.
 1999 - Net realized gains of $8.6 million. Accrued incentive compensation was increased $7.0 million, to $7.0 million. Net investment results increased income from continuing operations by $0.4 million, $.00 per share.
 1997 - Net realized losses of $2.7 million. Net investment results reduced income from continuing operations by $1.7 million, $.02 per share.
 1996 - Net realized gains of $37.0 million. Net investment results increased income from continuing operations by $24.3 million, $.30 per share.

- (9) In 1994 we sold our worldwide GARFIELD and U.S. ACRES copyrights. The sale resulted in a pre-tax gain of $31.6 million, which increased income from continuing operations by $17.4 million, $.23 per share.

- (10) Other gains (losses) included the following:

1996 - A $15.5 million contribution of appreciated Time Warner stock to a charitable foundation decreased income from continuing operations by $5.2 million, $.07 per share.
 1994 - An $8.0 million contribution of appreciated stock to a charitable foundation and a $6.1 million accrual for lawsuits associated with a divested operating unit reduced income from continuing operations by $8.1 million, $.11 per share.
 1993 - A $2.5 million fee received in connection with the change in ownership of the Ogden, Utah, newspaper increased income from continuing operations by $1.6 million, $.02 per share.
 1992 - Write-downs of real estate totaling $3.5 million reduced income from continuing operations by $2.3 million, $.03 per share.

(11) The provision for income taxes was affected by the following unusual items:

- 2002 - A change in the estimated tax liability for prior years reduced the tax provision, increasing income from continuing operations by $9.8 million, $.12 per share.
- 2000 - A change in the estimated tax liability for prior years reduced the tax provision, increasing income from continuing operations by $7.2 million, $.09 per share.
- 1994 - A change in the estimated tax liability for prior years increased the tax provision, reducing income from continuing operations by $5.3 million, $.07 per share.
- 1993 - A change in the estimated tax liability for prior years decreased the tax provision, increasing income from continuing operations by $5.4 million, $.07 per share; the effect of the increase in the federal income tax rate to 35% from 34% on the beginning of the year deferred tax liabilities increased the tax provision, reducing income from continuing operations by $2.3 million, $.03 per share.
- 1992 - A change in the estimated tax liability for prior years decreased the tax provision, increasing income from continuing operations by $8.4 million, $.11 per share.

(12) Our cable television systems ("Scripps Cable") were acquired by Comcast Corporation ("Comcast") on November 13, 1996, (the "Cable Transaction") through a merger whereby our shareholders received, tax-free, a total of 93 million shares of Comcast's Class A Special Common Stock. The aggregate market value of the Comcast shares was $1.593 billion and the net book value of Scripps Cable was $356 million, yielding an economic gain of $1.237 billion to our shareholders. This gain is not reflected in our financial statements as accounting rules required us to record the transaction at book value. Unless otherwise noted, the data excludes the cable television segment, which is reported as a discontinued business operation.

(13) Includes effect of discontinued cable television operations prior to completion of the Cable Transaction.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

This discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations is based upon the consolidated financial statements and the notes thereto. You should read this discussion in conjunction with those financial statements.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This discussion and the information contained in the notes to the consolidated financial statements contain certain forward-looking statements that are based on our current expectations. Forward-looking statements are subject to certain risks, trends and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the expectations expressed in the forward-looking statements. Such risks, trends and uncertainties, which in most instances are beyond our control, include changes in advertising demand and other economic conditions; consumers' taste; newsprint prices; program costs; labor relations; technological developments; competitive pressures; interest rates; regulatory rulings; and reliance on third-party vendors for various products and services. The words "believe," "expect," "anticipate," "estimate," "intend" and similar expressions identify forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements, which are as of the date of this filing, should be evaluated with the understanding of their inherent uncertainty.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") requires us to make a variety of decisions which affect reported amounts and related disclosures, including the selection of appropriate accounting principles and the assumptions on which to base accounting estimates. In reaching such decisions, we apply judgment based on our understanding and analysis of the relevant circumstances, including our historical experience, actuarial studies and other assumptions. We are committed to preparing financial statements incorporating accounting principles, assumptions and estimates that promote the representational faithfulness, verifiability, neutrality and transparency of the accounting information included in the financial statements.

Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements describes the significant accounting policies we have selected for use in the preparation of our financial statements and related disclosures. We believe the following to be the most critical accounting policies, estimates and assumptions affecting our reported amounts and related disclosures.

Revenue Recognition

Advertising. Advertising revenue is recorded, net of agency commissions, when advertisements are published in newspapers or are broadcast on television stations or national television networks. Advertising on our Internet sites is recognized over the period in which the advertising will appear.

Advertising contracts, which generally have a term of one year or less, may provide discounts based upon the volume of advertising purchased during the terms of the contracts. This requires us to make certain estimates regarding future advertising volumes. We base our estimates on various factors including our historical experience and advertising sales trends. Estimated rebates are recorded as a reduction of revenue in the period the advertisement is displayed and are revised as necessary based on actual volume realized.

Broadcast and national television network advertising contracts may guarantee the advertiser a minimum audience, requiring us to make estimates of audience size that will be delivered throughout the terms of the contracts. We base our estimate of audience size on information provided by ratings services and our historical experience. If we determine we will not deliver the guaranteed audience, an accrual for "make-good" advertisements is recorded as a reduction of revenue. The estimated make-good accrual is adjusted throughout the terms of the advertising contracts.

Newspaper Subscriptions. Circulation revenue for newspapers sold directly to subscribers is based upon the retail rate. Prepaid newspaper subscriptions are deferred and are included in circulation revenue on a pro-rata basis over the term of the subscriptions. Circulation revenue for newspapers sold to independent newspaper distributors, which are subject to returns, is based upon the wholesale rate. Newspaper circulation revenue is recognized upon publication of the newspaper, net of estimated returns. Estimated returns are based on historical return rates and are adjusted based on actual returns realized.

Network Affiliate Fees. Cable and satellite television systems generally pay a per-subscriber fee for the right to distribute our programming under the terms of long-term distribution contracts. We may make cash payments to cable and satellite television systems and may provide an initial period in which payment of affiliate fees by the systems is waived in exchange for such long-term distribution contracts. Network affiliate fee revenues are reported net of such incentives. Incentive payments are recorded as assets upon launch of our programming on the cable or satellite television system. The costs of incentives are recognized over the terms of the contracts based upon the ratio of each period's revenue to expected total revenue over the terms of the contracts.

Merchandise Sales. Revenue from the sale of merchandise is recognized when the products are delivered to the customer. We allow customers to return merchandise for full credit or refund within 30 days from the date of receipt. Revenue is reported net of estimated returns, which are based upon our historical experience. Actual levels of merchandise returned may vary from these estimates.

Programs and Program Licenses - Programming assets include licensed programs and programs produced by us or on a contract basis for us. These costs are expensed over the estimated useful life of the programming based upon expected future cash flows. Estimated future cash flows can change based upon market acceptance, advertising and network affiliate fee rates, the number of cable and satellite television subscribers receiving our networks and program usage. Accordingly, revenue estimates and planned usage are reviewed periodically and are revised if necessary. Such revisions may affect the amount of amortization recorded in a given year, the life over which the programs are amortized, or both. If actual demand or market conditions are less favorable than projected, programming cost write-downs may be required. Programming asset write-downs are determined using a day-part methodology, whereby programs broadcast during a particular time period (such as prime time) are evaluated on an aggregate basis.

Long-lived Assets - Judgment is applied in determining the estimated useful life of long-lived assets, specifically plant and property and certain intangible assets with a finite life. We base our judgment of estimated lives on the length of time we have employed similar assets and upon expert opinions.

Certain events or changes in circumstances may indicate that the carrying value of our property, plant and equipment, intangible assets, and goodwill may not be recoverable and may require an impairment review. In assessing impairment, we must make assumptions regarding estimated future cash flows and other factors to determine the fair value of the respective assets. Based on that review, if the carrying value of these assets exceeds fair value and is determined not to be recoverable, an impairment loss representing the amount of excess over its fair value would be recognized in income.

In accordance with FAS 142 we review goodwill for impairment based upon groupings of businesses, referred to as reporting units. Reporting units are operating segments or groupings of businesses one level below the operating segment level. Scripps Networks and Shop At Home comprise separate reporting units. Our newspaper and broadcast television reporting units are based on size of newspaper market and broadcast television affiliation.

Investments - We hold investments in several companies, including publicly traded securities and other securities that have no active market. Future adverse changes in market conditions, poor operating results, or the inability of certain development stage companies to find additional financing could result in losses that may not be reflected in an investment's current carrying value, thereby requiring an impairment charge in the future. We regularly review our investments to determine if there has been an other-than-temporary decline in market value. In making that determination, we consider the extent to which cost exceeds market value, the duration of the market decline, earnings and cash forecasts, and current cash position, among other factors.

Employee Benefits - We are self-insured for employee-related health and disability benefits and workers' compensation claims. A third-party administrator is used to process all claims. Estimated liabilities for unpaid claims are based on our historical claims experience and are developed from actuarial valuations. However, actual amounts could vary significantly from such estimates, which would require adjustments to expense in that period.

We rely upon actuarial valuations to determine pension costs. Inherent in these valuations are assumptions of discount rates and the expected return on plan assets. The discount rate used to determine our future pension obligations is based upon market rates for long-term bonds. Our return on plan assets assumption is based upon expected returns for broad equity and bond indices, our asset allocation and the historical returns we have earned on those asset classes. A change of 0.5% in our discount rate of 6.5%, or in our assumed rate of return on plan assets of 8.25%, would not materially affect 2003 pension expense. Future pension expense will depend on future investment performance, changes in discount rates and other factors related to the employee population participating in our pension plans.

Income Taxes - Accounting for income taxes is sensitive to interpretation of various laws and regulations. The Internal Revenue Service is currently examining our 1996 to 2001 consolidated federal income tax returns. We review our provision for open tax years on an ongoing basis.

We record a tax valuation allowance to reduce deferred tax assets to the amount that is more likely than not to be realized. Deferred tax assets subject to a valuation allowance primarily relate to state net operating loss carryforwards and capital loss carryforwards. We consider ongoing prudent and feasible tax planning strategies in assessing the need for a valuation allowance. In the event we determine the deferred tax asset we would realize would be greater or less than the net amount recorded, an adjustment would be made to the tax provision in that period.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Nature of Operations and Basis of Presentation - We are a diversified media company operating in four reportable business segments. Newspaper publishing includes 21 daily newspapers in the U.S. Scripps Networks includes four national television networks distributed by cable and satellite television systems: Home & Garden Television ("HGTV"), Food Network, Fine Living and DIY - Do It Yourself Network ("DIY"). Scripps Networks also includes our 12% interest in FOX Sports Net South, a regional television network. We own approximately 70% of Food Network and 90% of Fine Living. Broadcast television includes ten stations, nine of which are affiliated with national broadcast networks. Shop At Home markets a range of consumer goods to television viewers and through its Internet site. Shop At Home programming is distributed by broadcast television stations and by cable and satellite television systems. Licensing and other media aggregates operating segments that are too small to report separately, and primarily includes syndication and licensing of news features and comics.

Acquisitions and Divestitures - A joint operating agency (the "Denver JOA") between our Denver Rocky Mountain News ("RMN") and MediaNews Group, Inc.'s Denver Post ("Post") commenced operations on January 22, 2001. In addition to forming the Denver JOA, we acquired and divested the following operations in the three year period ended December 31, 2002:

- 2002 - We acquired a 70% controlling interest in Shop At Home, an additional 1% interest in Food Network and a fractional interest in our Evansville newspaper.
- 2001 - We acquired an additional 4% interest in Food Network and an additional fractional interest in our Evansville newspaper.
- 2000 - We acquired newspapers in Marco Island, Florida; Henderson, Kentucky; and Ft. Pierce, Florida (in exchange for our Destin, Florida, newspaper and cash). We also acquired television station KMCI in Lawrence, Kansas, which we had previously operated under a contract with the previous owner. We sold our independent telephone directories.

See Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information regarding acquisitions and divestitures.

Consolidated Results of Operations - Net income was $188 million, $2.34 per share, in 2002, compared to $138 million, $1.73 per share, in 2001 and $163 million, $2.06 per share in 2000. Net income increased 36% in 2002 and decreased 16% in 2001. All per share amounts are presented on a diluted basis.

Net income was affected by the following items:

- Results for 2002 reflect the cessation of the amortization of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives, due to the adoption of FAS 142 effective January 1, 2002. Amortization of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives was $38.1 million, $28.1 million after tax, $.35 per share, in 2001 and $35.8 million, $26.5 million after tax, $.33 per share, in 2000.
- Restructuring charges in 2001 of $10.2 million primarily consist of costs associated with workforce reductions at newspapers solely managed by us. Such workforce reductions were initiated as a result of the advertising recession that began in 2001. Restructuring charges of $9.5 million in 2000 are costs related to the formation of the Denver JOA. Substantially all restructuring charges were paid in cash at or near the time the costs were incurred.

Equity in earnings of JOAs and other joint ventures includes our share of restructuring costs at the Denver JOA. In 2002, a gain on the sale of excess real estate increased equity in earnings of the Denver JOA by $3.9 million in 2002. Our share of costs associated with workforce reductions at the Denver JOA reduced equity in earnings of the Denver JOA by $5.9 million in 2001.

Restructuring charges, including Denver JOA restructuring charges, increased net income by $2.4 million, $.03 per share, in 2002, decreased net income by $10.1 million, $.13 per share, in 2001 and decreased net income by $6.2 million, $.08 per share, in 2000.

- Net investment results include (i) net realized gains and losses and (ii) accrued performance-based compensation and other expenses associated with the management of the Scripps Ventures investment funds. Net investment results were a pre-tax charge of $85.7 million in 2002, a pre-tax credit of $5.1 million in 2001 and a $24.8 million pre-tax charge in 2000.

Between 1997 and 2002 we invested in new businesses focusing on new media technology, primarily through Scripps Ventures. Write-downs of such investments, net of realized gains upon sales of securities, were $45.0 million in 2002, $39.5 million in 2001 and $17.5 million in 2000. Accrued performance-based compensation was increased $4.5 million in 2000, to $11.5 million. The $11.5 million accrual was reversed in 2001 due to the decline in value of the investments. In 2002, we incurred $3.6 million in costs associated with winding down active management of Scripps Ventures.

In 2001, we recognized a gain of $65.9 million upon the exchange of our investment in Time Warner for America Online ("AOL"), which acquired Time Warner in the first quarter of 2001. Due to subsequent declines in the value of AOL, we wrote down our investment in AOL by $29.0 million in the fourth quarter of 2001 and by $35.1 million in the second quarter of 2002.

Net investment results reduced net income by $55.6 million, $.69 per share, in 2002, increased net income by $3.8 million, $.05 per share, in 2001 and decreased net income by $15.8 million, $.20 per share, in 2000.

- In 2000, we sold our telephone directories and traded our Destin, Florida, newspaper and cash for the daily newspaper in Ft. Pierce, Florida. The $6.2 million net gain on the sale and trade increased net income by $4.0 million, $.05 per share.
- We settled the audit of our 1992 through 1995 consolidated federal income tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") in 2002. Our 1996 through 2001 consolidated federal income tax returns are currently under examination by the IRS. As a result of the settlement and proposed adjustments in the current examination, in 2002 we reduced our estimate of the tax liability for prior year income taxes and increased our estimate of the amount we would realize from foreign tax credit carryforwards. In 2000, we reduced our estimate of the tax liability for prior year income taxes and changed our estimate of the amount we would realize from state net operating loss carryforwards. These changes in estimates increased net income by $9.8 million, $.12 per share, in 2002 and by $7.2 million, $.09 per share, in 2000.

The effective income tax rate was 37.4% in 2002, 41.3% in 2001 and 39.2% in 2000. The changes in estimates of the tax liability for prior year income taxes and the other items described above affected the effective income tax rate in each year. Excluding these items, the effective income tax rate was 39.4% in 2002, 39.4% in 2001 and 39.6% in 2000. The effective income tax rate in 2003 is expected to be approximately 40% due to higher effective state income tax rates.

Excluding the affects of these items, net income increased 34% in 2002 and decreased 14% in 2001. Operating results were driven by a reduction in depreciation expense resulting from the formation of the Denver JOA, changes in interest rates and changes in segment profits.

Pre-JOA depreciation at the RMN was $0.8 million in 2001 and $14.4 million in 2000. Depreciation and amortization for Shop At Home was $1.9 million in 2002. Depreciation and amortization is expected to be approximately $70 million in 2003.

Interest expense decreased in 2002 and 2001 primarily due to lower rates on variable rate credit facilities. The weighted-average interest rate on such facilities was 1.8% in 2002, 4.2% in 2001, and 6.4% in 2000. We are currently rolling over short-term debt at an effective 90-day yield of 1.3%. Average daily borrowings under short-term credit facilities were $373 million in 2002, $504 million in 2001, and $527 million in 2000. The average balance of all interest bearing obligations was $706 million in 2002, $741 million in 2001, and $767 million in 2000. Interest expense in 2003 is expected to increase approximately 20%, to $34 million, primarily as a result of our decision to replace $200 million of borrowings under the variable rate credit facilities with fixed rate notes.

Minority interest increased in 2002 primarily due to improved operating performance of Food Network, in which we own an approximate 70% residual interest. Food Network profits are allocated entirely to Class A partners until such partners' capital contributions are returned. Approximately $57 million of profits remain to be allocated to Class A partnership interests before amounts are allocated to other partnership interests. We own approximately 87% of the Class A partnership interests.

Segment profit was affected by changes in pension expense. Pension expense was $13.4 million in 2002, $6.6 million in 2001 and $4.2 million in 2000. Pension expense increased primarily due to lower returns on plan assets. Pension expense is expected to be approximately $25 million in 2003 due to lower discount rates and lower expected returns on plan assets.

Corporate expense increased in 2002 primarily due to the vesting of certain performance based restricted stock awards and the accrual of performance bonuses, which were not earned in 2001. Certain restricted stock awards issued in 2001 are earned based upon the market price of our Class A Common Shares. The expense related to these awards is recorded when the shares are earned. Corporate expense increased year-over-year in the first quarter when 20,000 shares were earned. An additional 20,000 shares were earned in April 2002. The remaining 20,000 shares under the award can be earned in 2003 if certain targets are met in 2003.

The following is a discussion of the performance of our reportable business segments.

SHOP AT HOME - Operating results for Shop At Home are included in our results of operations from the October 31, 2002, acquisition of the television-retailing network. Operating revenues for the last two months of 2002 were $42.3 million and segment losses were $1.7 million. Shop At Home revenues increased 16% in 2002 on a pro forma basis, assuming we had owned the business for the full year in 2002 and 2001. Shop At Home is expected to reduce total segment profit by approximately $10 million in 2003 and is expected to dilute 2003 earnings per share by $.10 to $.15.

The Denver JOA began operations in January 2001. Our financial statements do not include the advertising and other operating revenues of the Denver JOA or the costs to produce, distribute and market the newspapers. To enhance comparability of year-over-year segment results, we have removed the operating revenues and costs and expenses of the RMN for periods prior to the formation of the Denver JOA and reported such amounts separately.

Our newspapers are concentrated in mid-sized markets and as such we have less of a reliance on national advertising than certain other newspaper groups. We believe our concentration in mid-sized markets limits our exposure to sharp declines in national help-wanted advertising. We expect newspaper advertising revenue to increase between 3% and 5% in 2003.

We continue to expand our offerings of direct mail, total market coverage and other new advertising revenue streams.

The average price of newsprint decreased 22% in 2002, after increasing 6% in 2001 and 7% in 2000. Newsprint prices have fluctuated between $420 and $590 per metric ton from 1998 through 2002. The average newsprint price was in the lower portion of that range during the fourth quarter of 2002. Certain newsprint suppliers announced $50 per metric ton price increases effective March 1, 2003.

Circulation and distribution costs increased primarily due to efforts to gain circulation at our larger newspapers.

The increase in general and administrative expenses is primarily due to an increase in performance bonuses earned in 2002.

Employee compensation and benefit costs are expected to increase 4% to 6%, or $10 million to $15 million, in 2003 due to rising health care and pension costs.

The RMN contributed $9.4 million to segment profit in 2002. In 2001, the RMN reduced segment profit by $13.1 million, including a $12.2 million reduction in segment profit after the formation of the Denver JOA. The RMN reduced segment profit by $9.6 million in 2000. Operating results in Denver have improved due to advertising and circulation rate increases and cost-cutting measures implemented by the Denver JOA, including publication of combined weekend editions and a single classified advertising section distributed in both newspapers. We expect the year-over-year increase in the RMN contribution to segment profit in 2003 to be in the $6 million range due to the sluggish economy.

Capital expenditures in 2002 and 2001 include construction of a new production facility for our Knoxville daily newspaper. Capital expenditures in 2003 are expected to be $41 million, including construction of a new production facility for our Treasure Coast, Florida, daily newspapers.

According to the Nielsen Homevideo Index ("Nielsen") approximately 87 million homes in the United States receive cable or satellite television. According to Nielsen, HGTV was telecast to 80.4 million homes in December 2002, 76.4 million homes in December 2001, 67.1 million homes in December 2000, and 59.0 million homes in December 1999. Food Network was telecast to 78.2 million homes in December 2002, 71.5 million homes in December 2001, 54.4 million homes in December 2000, and 44.2 million homes in December 1999.

Wider distribution of HGTV and Food Network and increased viewership of the networks led to increased demand and higher advertising rates. Advertising revenues in 2001 were reduced by lost sales in the days following the September 11 terrorist attacks and weakened demand due to the advertising recession. Advertising revenues are expected to increase approximately 20% for the full year of 2003.

The increase in network affiliate fees reflects wider distribution of HGTV and Food Network, as well as both scheduled rate increases and rate increases resulting from the renewal of distribution agreements. Network affiliate fees are expected to increase approximately 15% in 2003.

As HGTV and Food Network become fully distributed, marketing and advertising expenditures designed to gain distribution have been decreased. The reduction in marketing and advertising expenditures led to the decrease in operations and distribution expense. Marketing and advertising expenditures to support distribution of the networks were $2.1 million in 2002 and $5.7 million in 2001.

Programming and production expense has increased due to the improved quality and variety of programming and expanded hours of original programming. We own the rights to substantially all of the programming we produce and expect to telecast the programs over several years. HGTV and Food Network programming and production expense is expected to increase approximately 15% in 2003.

In addition to continuing our investments in programming, we expect to continue to undertake additional marketing and promotion efforts to continue to increase the viewership of HGTV and Food Network. Sales and marketing expenses for the networks are expected to increase approximately 8% in 2003.

The increase in general and administrative expenses is primarily due to an increase in performance bonuses earned in 2002 and to start-up costs associated with DIY and Fine Living.

We launched DIY in the fourth quarter of 1999 and Fine Living in the first quarter of 2002. Start-up costs associated with DIY and Fine Living reduced segment profit by $38.0 million in 2002, $22.1 million in 2001 and $10.9 million in 2000.

Excluding losses associated with the launch of new networks, segment profit increased 67% in 2002 and 23% in 2001.

Fine Living and DIY could each be seen in approximately 13 million homes in December 2002. We expect to increase distribution of Fine Living and DIY to approximately 20 million homes in 2003.

We launched a joint video-on-demand ("VOD") trial with Time Warner Cable in November 2001 on Time Warner digital cable homes in Cincinnati, Ohio. The initial VOD package included a total of 60 hours of programming from HGTV, Food Network and DIY. We have announced plans to expand our VOD agreement to cover 30 Time Warner cable television systems across the United States and to Comcast's Philadelphia cable television system. The on-demand packages in these new markets are currently offered free-of-charge. We expect to continue our efforts to develop a subscription-based VOD model.

We expect losses related to developing programming services will decrease segment profit by $50 million in 2003, including costs related to the development of a programming service focusing on Hispanic lifestyle and interests. The cash investment in developing programming services will substantially exceed the reported losses because of investments in programming and launch incentive payments to cable television systems.

Capital expenditures in 2003 are expected to be approximately $16 million.

Our television stations benefited from political advertising and the return of the Olympics in 2002. Revenues in 2001 were impacted by approximately $4 million in lost sales in the days immediately following the September 11 terrorist attacks. Our television stations broadcast 32 hours of continuous, commercial free network and local news coverage, and for the next several days there was little demand for television advertising. We expect local and national advertising to increase approximately 8% in 2003.

In 2001, we renegotiated and extended our network affiliation agreements with NBC, which were originally scheduled to expire in 2004. Network compensation is sharply reduced under the new agreements, which expire in 2010. Our three NBC affiliates recognized $0.3 million in network compensation revenue in 2002, $1.4 million in 2001 and $2.4 million in 2000. Our ABC affiliation agreements expire in 2004 through 2006.

Expenses decreased year-over-year in 2001 and in 2000, primarily due to employee workforce reductions. The 2002 increase in sales and marketing and general and administrative expenses is primarily due to an increase in performance bonuses and commissions.

Employee compensation and benefit costs are expected to increase 4% to 6%, or $4 million to $7 million, in 2003 due to rising health care and pension costs. Expenses related to licensed programming are expected to increase between 2% and 3%, or approximately $2 million, in 2003.

Capital expenditures in 2000 include construction of a new production facility for our West Palm Beach television station. Capital expenditures are expected to be approximately $32 million in 2003, including construction of a new production facility for our Cincinnati television station.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Our primary source of liquidity is our cash flow from operating activities. Advertising has historically provided 70% to 75% of total operating revenues, so cash flow from operating activities is adversely affected during recessionary periods.

Information about our use of cash flow from operating activities is presented in the following table:

(in thousands)
	2002	For the years ended December 31, Change	2001	Change	2000
STATEMENT OF CASH FLOWS INFORMATION:
Net cash provided by operating activities	$ 212,945	3.3 %	$ 206,067	(19.4)%	$ 255,743

Other financing activities - primarily stock option proceeds	26,506		15,668		5,548

Cash flow from operating activities exceeded capital expenditures and cash dividends in 2002, as it has in each year since 1992. Cash flow from operating activities in excess of capital expenditures and dividends, combined with our substantial borrowing capacity have been used primarily to fund acquisitions and investments and to develop new businesses. There are essentially no legal or other restrictions on the transfer of funds among our business segments.

Net cash provided by operating activities was reduced by contributions to Scripps' defined benefit pension plans of $40 million in 2002. Pension contributions were $1.5 million in 2001 and $0.8 million in 2000. We expect to make additional pension contributions of approximately $40 million in 2003.

Net cash provided by operating activities was also reduced in 2002 and in 2001 by increased investments in Scripps Networks' programming, incentives paid to cable and satellite television systems and by investments in our developing networks. Costs associated with developing Fine Living and DIY reduced cash flow from operating activities by approximately $110 million in 2002, by approximately $20 million in 2001 and by approximately $10 million in 2000.

Capital expenditures increased in 2002 primarily due to the construction of a new production facility for our Knoxville daily newspaper. Capital expenditures in 2003 are estimated to increase to approximately $100 million because of our decision to begin construction of a newspaper plant on the Treasure Coast of Florida and a new production facility for our Cincinnati television station.

We expect cash flow available for acquisitions and debt repayment to decrease in 2003 due to costs associated with our developing networks and Shop At Home.

In 2002, we acquired a 70% controlling interest in the Shop At Home television-retailing network for $49.5 million in cash. Related to the acquisition of the controlling interest, we agreed to loan Summit America Television, Inc. ("Summit America"), the former parent of Shop At Home, $47.5 million to be repaid in three years and to purchase $3.0 million of Summit America redeemable preferred stock. We also acquired an additional 1% interest in Food Network for $5.2 million.

In 2001, we paid MediaNews $60.0 million in connection with the formation of the Denver JOA. We also acquired an additional 4% interest in Food Network for $19.4 million.

In 2000, we acquired daily newspapers in Henderson, Kentucky, Ft. Pierce, Florida, and a weekly newspaper in Marco Island, Florida, for $67.1 million and acquired television station KMCI in Kansas City for $14.6 million.

In 2002, 2001 and 2000 we invested $11.6 million, $21.4 million and $57.0 million in Scripps Ventures and other investments.

Net debt (borrowings less cash equivalent and other short-term investments) increased $3.0 million in 2002, to $725 million at December 31, 2002. Net debt includes commercial paper borrowings totaling $312 million, with average maturities of 90 days or less. Commercial paper borrowings are supported by two bank credit facilities, one which permits maximum borrowings of $400 million and expires in August 2003 and one which permits maximum borrowings of $200 million and expires in 2007. Borrowings of $288 million are available under the facilities. The $400 million facility is expected to be replaced with a similar facility prior to its expiration.

Our access to commercial paper markets can be affected by macroeconomic factors outside of our control. In addition to macroeconomic factors, our access to commercial paper markets and our borrowing costs are affected by short and long-term debt ratings assigned by independent rating agencies.

We have a U.S. shelf registration statement which allows us to borrow up to $500 million, of which $400 million was available at December 31, 2002. In February 2003, we borrowed $50 million under the shelf registration statement, reducing the available amount to $350 million. The proceeds from the notes were used to reduce commercial paper borrowings.

A summary of our contractual cash commitments for each of the next five years, as of December 31, 2002, is as follows:

Total contractual cash obligations	$ 326,300	$ 217,660	$ 364,366	$ 422,946	$ 1,331,272

In the ordinary course of business we enter into long-term contracts to license or produce programming, to lease office space, to obtain satellite transmission rights, and to obtain distribution of Shop At Home. A liability for licensed programming is not recorded until the program is available for telecast. Liabilities for our other commitments are recorded when the related services are rendered.

We expect our operating leases will be replaced with leases for similar facilities upon their expiration. We expect our broadcast television stations and our national television networks to continue to enter into programming commitments and for our national television networks and Shop At Home to continue to obtain satellite transmission rights.

QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Earnings and cash flow can be affected by, among other things, economic conditions, interest rate changes, foreign currency fluctuations (primarily in the exchange rate for the Japanese yen) and changes in the price of newsprint. See "Business - Newspapers - Raw Materials and Labor Costs." We are also exposed to changes in the market value of our investments.

We may use foreign currency forward and option contracts to hedge our cash flow exposures that are denominated in Japanese yen and forward contracts to reduce the risk of changes in the price of newsprint on anticipated newsprint purchases. We held no foreign currency or newsprint derivative financial instruments at December 31, 2002, or during the year then ended.

The following table presents additional information about market-risk-sensitive financial instruments:

Summit America preferred stock	3,000	(a)
Other equity investments	17,970	(a)	51,364	(a)

(a) Included in other equity investments are securities that do not trade in public markets, so they do not have readily determinable fair values. Many of the investees have had no rounds of equity financing in the past two years. There can be no assurance as to the amounts we would receive if these securities were sold.

Our objectives in managing interest rate risk are to limit the impact of interest rate changes on our earnings and cash flows and to reduce our overall borrowing costs. We manage interest rate risk primarily by maintaining a mix of fixed-rate and variable-rate debt, and through the use of interest rate swaps. In February 2003, we issued $50 million of 3.75% notes due in 2008. The proceeds were used to reduce borrowings under the variable rate credit facilities. Concurrently, we entered into a pay-floating interest rate swap, effectively converting the notes to a variable rate obligation indexed to LIBOR. We held no interest rate swaps, forwards or other derivative financial instruments at December 31, 2002 or December 31, 2001.

The weighted-average interest rate on borrowings under the Variable Rate Credit Facilities at December 31 was 1.4% in 2002, 2.0% in 2001 and 6.6% in 2000.

In connection with the acquisition of our 70% controlling interest in Shop At Home, we agreed to lend Summit America, the former parent of Shop At Home, $47.5 million and to purchase $3.0 million of its 6% preferred stock. The note is secured by Summit America's broadcast television stations in San Francisco, Boston and Cleveland and bears interest at 6%, payable quarterly. The note and the preferred stock mature in 2005. The carrying amount of the note is based on the estimated fair value of the note at the date of acquisition of the controlling interest in Shop At Home plus accreted discount.

CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Scripps' management is responsible for the preparation, integrity and objectivity of the consolidated financial statements and other information presented in this report. The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and reflect certain estimates and adjustments by management. In preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, we must make a variety of decisions that affect the reported amounts and the related disclosures. Such decisions include the selection of accounting principles that reflect the economic substance of the underlying transactions and the assumptions on which to base accounting estimates. In reaching such decisions, we apply judgment based on our understanding and analysis of the relevant circumstances, including our historical experience, actuarial studies and other assumptions. We re-evaluate our estimates and assumptions on an ongoing basis. While actual results could, in fact, differ from those estimated at the time of preparation of the financial statements, we are committed to preparing financial statements incorporating accounting principles, assumptions and estimates that promote the representational faithfulness, verifiability, neutrality and transparency of the accounting information included in the financial statements.

We maintain a system of internal accounting controls and procedures, which management believes provide reasonable assurance that transactions are properly recorded and that assets are protected from loss or unauthorized use.

We maintain a system of disclosure controls and procedures to ensure timely collection and evaluation of information subject to disclosure, to ensure the selection of appropriate accounting policies, and to ensure compliance with our accounting policies and procedures. Our disclosure control systems and procedures include the certification of financial information provided by each of our businesses by the management of those businesses.

The integrity of the internal accounting and disclosure control systems are based on written policies and procedures, the careful selection and training of qualified financial personnel, a program of internal audits and direct management review. Our disclosure control committee meets periodically to review our systems and procedures and to review our financial statements and related disclosures.

Both the internal and independent auditors have direct and private access to the Audit Committee.

In December 2002 and January 2003, an evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-14(c) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) was carried out under the supervision of and with the participation of management, including the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer. Based upon that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer concluded that the design and operation of these disclosure controls and procedures are effective. There were no significant changes in internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect these controls subsequent to the date of the most recent evaluation.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Consolidation - The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of The E. W. Scripps Company and its majority-owned subsidiary companies. As used in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements, the terms "we," "our," "us" or "Scripps" may, depending on the context, refer to The E. W. Scripps Company and its consolidated subsidiaries.

Nature of Operations - We are a diversified media company operating in four reportable business segments: newspaper publishing, cable and satellite television programming services (referred to as "Scripps Networks"), broadcast television and television-retailing ("Shop At Home").

Newspaper publishing includes 21 daily newspapers in the U.S. Newspapers derive revenue primarily from the sale of advertising space to local and national advertisers and from the sale of the newspapers to readers.

Scripps Networks includes four national television networks distributed by cable and satellite television systems: Home & Garden Television ("HGTV"), Food Network, Fine Living and DIY - Do It Yourself Network ("DIY"). Scripps Networks also includes our 12% interest in FOX Sports Net South, a regional television network. As of December 31, 2002, we owned approximately 70% of Food Network and approximately 90% of Fine Living. Scripps Networks derives revenue primarily from the sale of advertising time and from affiliate fees from cable and satellite television systems.

Broadcast television includes ten stations, nine of which are affiliated with national broadcast networks. Broadcast television derives revenue primarily from the sale of advertising time to local and national advertisers.

Shop At Home markets a range of consumer goods to television viewers and through its Internet site. Shop At Home programming is distributed under the terms of affiliation agreements with broadcast television stations and cable and satellite television systems. Substantially all of Shop At Home's revenues are derived from the sale of merchandise.

The relative importance of each line of business is indicated in the segment information presented in Note 16. Licensing and other media aggregates our operating segments that are too small to report separately, and primarily includes syndication and licensing of news features and comics.

Our operations are geographically dispersed and we have a diverse customer base. We believe bad debt losses resulting from default by a single customer, or defaults by customers in any depressed region or business sector, would not have a material effect on our financial position. However, more than 70% of our operating revenues have historically been derived from advertising. Operating results can be affected by changes in the demand for advertising both nationally and in individual markets.

The four largest cable and satellite television systems provide service to more than 60% of homes receiving HGTV and Food Network, while the eight largest provide service to more than 90% of such homes. The loss of distribution by any of these cable and satellite television systems would adversely affect our business. While no assurance can be given regarding renewal of our distribution contracts, we have historically successfully renewed expiring distribution agreements for HGTV and Food Network.

Use of Estimates - We must make a variety of decisions that affect the reported amounts and the related disclosures. Such decisions include the selection of accounting principles that reflect the economic substance of the underlying transactions and the assumptions on which to base accounting estimates. In reaching such decisions, we apply judgment based on our understanding and analysis of the relevant circumstances, including our historical experience, actuarial studies and other assumptions. While we re-evaluate our estimates and assumptions on an ongoing basis, actual results could, in fact, differ from those estimated at the time of preparation of the financial statements.

Our financial statements include estimates for uncollectible accounts receivable; product returns and rebates due to customers; revenue recognized under customer-billed arrangements (see "Revenue Recognition"); the periods over which long-lived assets are depreciated or amortized; assumptions used in accounting for our defined benefit pension plans; self-insured risks and income taxes payable.

We self-insure employees' medical and disability income benefits, workers' compensation benefits and general liability. The recorded liability, which totaled $20.1 million at December 31, 2002, is calculated using actuarial methods and is not discounted. Management does not believe it is likely that its estimates for such items will change materially in the near term.

Revenue Recognition - Our primary sources of revenue are from:

- The sale of advertising space, advertising time and Internet advertising.
- The sale of newspapers to distributors and to individual subscribers.
- Programming services provided to cable and satellite television systems ("network affiliate fees").
- The sale of merchandise to consumers.
- Royalties from licensing copyrighted characters.

Revenue recognition policies for each source of revenue are described below.

Advertising. Advertising revenue is recorded, net of agency commissions, when advertisements are published in newspapers or are broadcast on television stations or national television networks. Advertising on our Internet sites is recognized over the period in which the advertising will appear.

Advertising contracts, which generally have a term of one year or less, may provide discounts based upon the volume of advertising purchased during the terms of the contracts. This requires us to make certain estimates regarding future advertising volumes. Estimated rebates are recorded as a reduction of revenue in the period the advertisement is displayed and are revised as necessary based on actual volume realized.

Broadcast and national television network advertising contracts may guarantee the advertiser a minimum audience, requiring us to make estimates of audience size. If we determine we will not deliver the guaranteed audience, an accrual for "make-good" advertisements is recorded as a reduction of revenue. The estimated make-good accrual is adjusted over the terms of the advertising contracts.

Broadcast television stations may receive compensation for airing network programming under the terms of the network affiliation agreements. Network affiliation agreements generally provide for the payment of pre-determined fees, but may provide compensation based upon other factors. Pre-determined fees are recognized as revenue on a straight-line basis over the terms of the network affiliation agreements. Compensation dependent upon other factors, which may vary over the terms of the affiliation agreements, is recognized when such amounts are earned.

Newspaper Subscriptions. Circulation revenue for newspapers sold directly to subscribers is based upon the retail rate. Prepaid newspaper subscriptions are deferred and are included in circulation revenue on a pro-rata basis over the term of the subscriptions. Circulation revenue for newspapers sold to independent newspaper distributors, which are subject to returns, is based upon the wholesale rate. Newspaper circulation revenue is recognized upon delivery, net of estimated returns. Estimated returns are based on historical return rates and are adjusted based on actual returns realized.

Network Affiliate Fees. Cable and satellite television systems generally pay a per-subscriber fee for the right to distribute our programming on their systems under the terms of long-term distribution contracts. We may make cash payments to cable and satellite television systems and may provide an initial period in which payment of affiliate fees by the systems is waived in exchange for such long-term distribution contracts. Network affiliate fee revenues are reported net of such incentives. Incentive payments are recorded as assets upon launch of our programming on the cable or satellite television system. The costs of incentives are recognized over the terms of the contracts based upon the ratio of each period's revenue to expected total revenue over the terms of the contracts.

Merchandise Sales. Revenue from the sale of merchandise is recognized when the products are delivered to the customer. We allow customers to return merchandise for full credit or refund within 30 days from the date of receipt. Revenue is reported net of estimated returns, which are based upon our historical experience. Actual levels of merchandise returned may vary from these estimates.

Licensing. Royalties from merchandise licensing are recognized as the licensee sells products. Royalties from promotional licensing are recognized on a straight-line basis over the terms of the licensing agreements.

Customer-billed Revenue. Certain of our revenues, primarily network affiliate fees and licensing revenues, are reported to us by customers in accordance with contractual terms. This requires us to estimate the amount of revenue earned in the current period. Network affiliate fees are determined by contracts with cable and satellite television systems and are based upon subscribers receiving our programming. Licensing revenues are determined by contracts with licensees and are based upon sales of licensed products. We record revenue based upon estimates of the number of subscribers receiving our programming services and licensed product sales. Estimated network affiliate fees and licensing revenues are subsequently adjusted based upon actual amounts realized.

Cash Equivalent and Short-term Investments - Cash equivalents represent debt instruments with an original maturity of less than three months. Short-term investments represent excess cash invested in securities not meeting the criteria to be classified as cash equivalents. Cash equivalent and short-term investments are carried at cost plus accrued income, which approximates fair value.

Inventories - Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market. Merchandise inventories are computed using the average cost method, which approximates the first in, first out ("FIFO") method. The cost of newsprint and other inventories is computed using the FIFO method.

We identify slow-moving or obsolete merchandise inventories and estimate appropriate loss provisions. Estimated loss provisions are calculated net of amounts that can be recovered under vendor return programs. While we have no reason to believe our inventory return privileges will be discontinued in the future, our risk of loss would increase if such a loss of return privileges were to occur.

Newspaper Joint Operating Agencies - A JOA combines all but the editorial operations of two competing newspapers in a market in order to reduce aggregate expenses and take advantage of economies of scale, thereby allowing the continuing operation of both newspapers in that market. The Newspaper Preservation Act of 1970 ("NPA") provides a limited exemption from anti-trust laws, generally permitting the continuance of JOAs in existence prior to the enactment of the NPA and the formation, under certain circumstances, of new JOAs between newspapers.

We are a partner in JOAs in four markets. The JOA between our Denver Rocky Mountain News and MediaNews Group, Inc.'s ("MediaNews") Denver Post (the "Denver JOA") was approved by the U.S. Attorney General in January 2001.

The Denver JOA is jointly managed by us and MediaNews. We do not share management responsibilities for our other three JOAs.

JOA revenues less JOA expenses, as defined in each JOA, equals JOA operating profits. In each case JOA expenses exclude editorial costs and expenses. JOA operating profits are split between the partners according to the terms of the JOA agreement. We receive a 50% share of the operating profits of the Denver JOA, and between 20% and 40% of the operating profits in the other three markets. Our portion of JOA operating profits is reported in "Equity in earnings of JOAs and other joint ventures" in our Consolidated Statements of Income. We include the editorial costs and expenses of our newspapers in "Costs and expenses" in our Consolidated Statements of Income.

Our residual interest in the net assets of the Denver and Albuquerque JOAs is classified as an investment in the Consolidated Balance Sheets. We do not have a residual interest in the net assets of the other JOAs.

Investments - We have invested in various securities, including public and private companies. Investment securities, in general, are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, credit and overall market volatility. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term. Such changes could materially affect the amounts reported in our financial statements.

We record our investments at fair value, except for securities accounted for under the equity method or that do not trade in a public market. Investments in 20%- to 50%-controlled companies and in all joint ventures and partnerships are accounted for using the equity method. Investments in private companies are recorded at adjusted cost, net of impairment write-downs, because no readily determinable market price is available. All other securities are classified as available for sale. Fair value is determined using quoted market prices. The difference between adjusted cost basis and fair value, net of related tax effects, is recorded in the accumulated other comprehensive income component of shareholders' equity.

We regularly review our investments to determine if there has been an other-than-temporary decline in value. In making that determination we consider the extent to which cost exceeds fair value, the duration of the market decline, earnings and cash forecasts, and current cash position among other factors. The cost basis is adjusted when a decline in market value is determined to be other than temporary, with the resulting adjustment charged against net income.

The cost of securities sold is determined by specific identification.

Property, Plant and Equipment - Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over estimated useful lives as follows:

Buildings and improvements	35 years
Printing presses	30 years
Other newspaper production equipment	5 to 10 years
Television transmission towers and related equipment	15 years
Other television and program production equipment	3 to 15 years
Office and other equipment	3 to 10 years

Goodwill - Goodwill represents the cost of acquisitions in excess of the acquired businesses' tangible assets and identifiable intangible assets. Prior to January 1, 2002, goodwill was accounted for in accordance with Accounting Principles Board Opinion ("APB") 17 - Intangible Assets. Amortization of goodwill was calculated on a straight-line basis over 40 years.

Effective January 1, 2002, we adopted Financial Accounting Standard No. ("FAS") 142 - Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets (see Note 2). Goodwill is no longer amortized, but is reviewed for impairment at least annually. In accordance with FAS 142 goodwill is reviewed for impairment based upon reporting units, which are defined as operating segments or groupings of businesses one level below the operating segment level. Scripps Networks and Shop At Home comprise separate reporting units. Our newspaper and broadcast television reporting units are based upon the size of the newspaper market and the broadcast television network affiliation.

Programs and Program Licenses - Programming aired by our broadcast television stations and by Scripps Networks is either produced by us or for us by independent production companies, or is licensed under agreements with independent producers. Costs to produce live programming that is not expected to be rebroadcast, such as newscasts and Shop At Home programs, are expensed as incurred. Production costs for other internally produced programs are capitalized.

Program licenses generally have fixed terms, limit the number of times we can air the programs, and require payments over the terms of the licenses. The licensor retains ownership of the program upon expiration of the license. Licensed program assets and liabilities are recorded when the programs become available for broadcast. The liability for program licenses is not discounted for imputed interest.

Programs and program licenses are amortized over estimated useful lives or over the terms of the license agreements based upon expected future cash flows. Estimated future cash flows can change based upon market acceptance, advertising and network affiliate fee rates, the number of cable and satellite television subscribers receiving our networks and program usage. Accordingly, we periodically review revenue estimates and planned usage and revise our assumptions if necessary. If actual demand or market conditions are less favorable than projected, a write-down to fair value may be required. Program asset write-downs are determined using a day-part methodology, whereby programs broadcast during a particular time period (such as prime time) are evaluated on an aggregate basis.

The portion of the unamortized balance expected to be amortized within one year is classified as a current asset.

Program rights liabilities payable within the next twelve months are included in accounts payable. Noncurrent program rights liabilities are included in other noncurrent liabilities.

Other Intangible Assets - FCC licenses represents the value assigned to the broadcast licenses of acquired broadcast television stations. Broadcast television stations are subject to the jurisdiction of the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") which prohibits the operation of stations except in accordance with an FCC license. FCC licenses stipulate each station's operating parameters as defined by channels, effective radiated power and antenna height. FCC licenses are granted for a term of up to eight years, and are renewable upon request. We have never had a renewal request denied, and all previous renewals have been for the maximum term.

Broadcast television network affiliation represents the value assigned to an acquired broadcast television station's relationship with a national television network. Broadcast television stations affiliated with national television networks typically have greater profit margins than independent television stations, primarily due to audience recognition of the television station as a network affiliate. National network affiliation agreements are generally renewable upon the mutual decision of the broadcast television station and the network. Our affiliated broadcast television stations have always maintained affiliation with one of the primary national broadcast television networks.

FCC licenses and network affiliation agreements are classified as indefinite-lived intangible assets. Accordingly, effective January 1, 2002, these assets are no longer amortized but are tested for impairment at least annually. Prior to the adoption of FAS 142 these assets were amortized on a straight-line basis over 40 years. Under FAS 142 we also assess, at least annually, whether the assets continue to have indefinite lives.

Network distribution intangible assets represent the value assigned to an acquired programming service's relationships with the broadcast television stations and cable and satellite television systems that distribute its programs. These relationships and distribution provide the opportunity to deliver advertising and sell merchandise to viewers. While these contracts are renewable, most of our acquired contracts have been renewed a limited number of times. As a result, we amortize these contractual relationships over the terms of the distribution contracts.

Customer lists and other intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis over periods of up to 20 years.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets - In accordance with FAS 142 goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets are reviewed for impairment at least annually, and whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying amounts of the assets may be impaired. We have elected to perform our impairment review during the fourth quarter of each year, in conjunction with our annual planning cycle. At December 31, 2002, we found no impairment of goodwill or other indefinite-lived intangible assets.

In accordance with FAS 144 - Accounting for the Impairment and Disposal of Long-lived Assets, other long-lived assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or circumstances indicate the carrying amounts of the assets may not be recoverable. Recoverability is determined by comparing the forecasted undiscounted cash flows of the operation to which the assets relate to the carrying amount of the assets. If the undiscounted cash flow is less than the carrying amount of the assets, then amortizable intangible assets are written down first, followed by other long-lived assets of the operation, to fair value. Fair value is determined based on discounted cash flows. Long-lived assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less costs to sell.

Income Taxes - Deferred income taxes are provided for temporary differences between the tax basis and reported amounts of assets and liabilities that will result in taxable or deductible amounts in future years. Our temporary differences primarily result from accelerated depreciation and amortization for tax purposes, investment gains and losses not yet recognized for tax purposes and accrued expenses not deductible for tax purposes until paid.

Risk Management Contracts - We do not hold derivative financial instruments for trading or speculative purposes, and we do not hold leveraged contracts. From time to time we may use interest rate swaps to limit the impact of interest rate changes on our earnings and cash flows and to reduce our overall borrowing costs. We held no derivative financial instruments in the three years ended December 31, 2002.

In February 2003, we entered into a pay-floating interest rate swap, effectively converting $50 million of newly issued 3.75% notes due in 2008 to variable rate obligations. See Note 12.

Net Income Per Share - The following table presents additional information about basic and diluted weighted-average shares outstanding:

	For the years ended December 31,
	2002	2001	2000
Basic weighted-average shares outstanding	79,485	78,825	78,170

Stock options held by employees	965	976	826
Diluted weighted-average shares outstanding	80,619	79,970	79,161

Stock-Based Compensation - We have a stock-based compensation plan, which is described more fully in Note 18. Stock options are awarded to purchase Class A Common shares at not less than 100% of the fair market value on the date of the award. Stock options and awards of Class A Common shares vest over an incentive period conditioned upon the individual's employment through that period. We measure compensation expense using the intrinsic-value-based method of APB 25 - Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and its related interpretations. No stock-based compensation expense is recorded upon the issuance of stock options as the exercise price of all options granted equals the market value of the underlying common stock on the date of grant. The values of awards of Class A Common shares, which require no payment by the employee, are amortized to expense over the vesting period.

The following table illustrates the effect on net income and earnings per share if we had applied the fair value recognition provisions of FAS 123 - Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, as amended by FAS 148 - Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation - Transition and Disclosure, which was effective for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2002:

2. ACCOUNTING CHANGES AND RECENTLY ISSUED ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

Accounting Changes - We adopted FAS 141 - Business Combinations and FAS 142 - Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets effective January 1, 2002. We determined there was no impairment of goodwill or other intangible assets as of the date of adoption. If the non-amortization provisions of FAS 142 had been effective for all periods presented, reported results of operations would have been as follows:

(in thousands, except per share data)

We adopted FAS 143 - Accounting for Asset Retirement Obligations effective January 1, 2002. The statement requires the fair value of an asset retirement obligation be recorded when incurred. The associated retirement costs are capitalized as part of the carrying amount of the long-lived asset and depreciated over the estimated useful life. Adoption of this standard had no effect on our financial statements.

In 2001, we adopted FAS 144 - Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets, which replaced FAS 121 - Accounting for the Impairment of Long-lived Assets and Assets to be Disposed Of. This statement developed one accounting model for assets to be disposed, and requires that long-lived assets be recorded at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less costs to sell. Adoption of this standard had no effect on our financial statements.

In 2002, we adopted FAS 145 - Rescission of FASB Statements No. 4, 44 and 64, and Amendment of FASB Statement No. 13, and Technical Corrections. Among the more important provisions of this statement are the requirements that gains and losses on the early retirement of debt are classified as extraordinary items only if such gains and losses meet the requirements of APB 30 - Reporting the Results of Operations - Reporting the Effects of Disposal of a Segment of a Business, and Extraordinary, Unusual and Infrequently Occurring Events and Transactions and the requirement that certain lease modifications that have economic effects similar to a sales-leaseback transaction to be accounted for as a sale-leaseback transaction. Adoption of this standard had no effect on our financial statements.

Recently Issued Accounting Standards - FAS 146 - Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities was issued in June 2002. FAS 146 is effective for exit or disposal activities initiated after December 31, 2002, and nullifies Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. ("EITF") 94-3, Liability Recognition for Certain Employee Termination Benefits and Other Costs to Exit an Activity. The primary difference between this statement and EITF 94-3 is that FAS 146 requires a liability for costs associated with exit or disposal activities to be recorded when incurred rather than when management commits to an exit plan.

FASB Interpretation No. ("Interpretation") 45 - Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others was issued in November 2002 and is effective for guarantees issued or modified after December 31, 2002. Interpretation 45 requires a guarantor to disclose information regarding the amounts, terms, maximum future payments and the carrying amount of guarantees, and to recognize a liability for the obligations undertaken at the time a guarantee is issued.

Interpretation 46 - Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities was issued in January 2003 and is effective with respect to all variable interest entities created or acquired after January 31, 2003, and to all variable interest entities held prior to that date in the first fiscal year or interim period beginning after June 15, 2003. Interpretation 46 clarifies when such entities must be consolidated.

Adoptions of these standards are expected to have no effect on our financial statements.

3. ACQUISITIONS AND DIVESTITURES

Acquisitions

2002 - In the first quarter, we acquired an additional 1% interest in Food Network for $5.2 million in cash. We acquired an additional fractional interest in our Evansville newspaper in the second quarter for $0.4 million in cash.

In the fourth quarter, we acquired a 70% controlling interest in Shop At Home for $49.5 million. Related to the acquisition of the controlling interest, we loaned Summit America Television, Inc. ("Summit America"), the former parent of Shop At Home, $47.5 million to be repaid in three years. We also purchased $3.0 million of Summit America redeemable preferred stock. See Note 6.

Acquiring a controlling interest in Shop At Home provides us with an existing infrastructure and workforce with retailing expertise, enabling us to quickly gain scale in a growing market. We expect to leverage our expertise as a diverse media company to expand distribution and to offer a wider range of products. Acquiring Shop At Home also enables us to provide a video commerce platform to our advertisers.

Summit America has the right to require us to purchase the remaining 30% of Shop At Home at any time between November 1, 2004, and October 31, 2007, at the then fair value. We have an option to acquire the remaining 30% of Shop At Home at any time after October 31, 2007, at the then fair value.

2001 - We acquired an additional 4% interest in Food Network for $19.4 million and an additional fractional interest in our Evansville newspaper.

2000 - In the first quarter, we acquired the daily newspaper in Fort Pierce, Florida, in exchange for our newspaper in Destin, Florida, and $28.1 million in cash, strengthening our position in the Stuart and Vero Beach, Florida, markets. Also in the first quarter, we acquired television station KMCI in Lawrence, Kansas, for $14.6 million in cash. In the fourth quarter we acquired the daily newspaper in Henderson, Kentucky, which is adjacent to our Evansville, Indiana, daily newspaper, for $22.9 million in cash. We also acquired the weekly newspaper in Marco Island, Florida, which is adjacent to our Naples, Florida, daily newspaper, for $16.1 million in cash.

The following table summarizes the estimated fair values of the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed as of the dates of acquisition. The allocation of the purchase price to the Shop At Home assets and liabilities is based upon preliminary appraisals, and is therefore subject to change.

Approximately $1.1 million of the $5.2 million of intangible assets acquired in the Shop At Home transaction was assigned to trade names and domain names, which have indefinite lives. Of the remaining amounts, $1.5 million was assigned to customer lists, which are amortized over three years, and $2.6 million to network distribution relationships, which are amortized over contract lives. Intangible assets acquired in 2000 primarily represent the value of the FCC license for KMCI, which are no longer subject to amortization under the provisions of FAS 142.

Goodwill of $29.7 million was acquired in the Shop At Home transaction. The entire amount was assigned to the Shop At Home business segment. Goodwill in the newspaper acquisitions in 2000 totaled $59.8 million and was allocated to the newspaper segment. Substantially all of the other goodwill acquired relates to the purchase of minority interests in Food Network, and was assigned to the Scripps Networks business segment. All acquired goodwill is expected to be deductible for tax purposes.

Operating results of acquired businesses are included in the Consolidated Statements of Income from the dates of acquisitions, with the exception of KMCI whose results were included while we operated the station under a contract with the previous owner.

The following table summarizes, on a pro forma basis, the estimated combined results of operations of Scripps and Shop At Home had the transaction taken place at the beginning of 2000. Pro forma results are not presented for the other acquisitions because the combined results of operations would not be significantly different from reported amounts.

The pro forma information includes adjustments for interest expense that would have been incurred to finance the acquisition and additional depreciation and amortization of the assets acquired. The 2001 and 2000 periods do not include amortization of goodwill and indefinite-lived intangible assets that are no longer amortizable under the provisions of FAS 142. The unaudited pro forma financial information is not necessarily indicative of the results that actually would have occurred had the acquisition been completed at the beginning of the period.

2000 - We sold our independent telephone directories and traded our Destin, Florida, newspaper and cash for the daily newspaper in Fort Pierce, Florida. The sales and trade resulted in net gains of $6.2 million, $4.0 million after-tax ($.05 per share). Operating revenue related to divested operating units was $10.5 million in 2000.

4. RESTRUCTURING CHARGES AND UNUSUAL ITEMS

2002 - Reported results of operations were affected by the following items:

- Net investment results were a pre-tax charge of $85.7 million, decreasing net income by $55.6 million, $.69 per share. Included in net investment results are i) $80.1 million in write-downs for several investments, including $35.1 million due to the decline in value of our investment in AOL Time Warner ("AOL") and $23.0 million due to declines in the value of the Scripps Ventures Funds I and II ("Scripps Ventures") investment portfolios, and ii) $3.6 million of costs associated with winding down the Scripps Ventures investment funds.
- A $3.9 million gain on the sale of real estate at the Denver JOA increased net income by $2.4 million, $.03 per share.
- We reduced our estimated tax liability for prior years and increased the estimated amount we expect to realize from foreign tax credit carryforwards (see Note 5). Net income was increased by $9.8 million, $.12 per share.

The combined effect of the above items was to decrease 2002 net income by $43.4 million, $.54 per share.

2001 - Reported results of operations were affected by the following items:

- Net investment results were a pre-tax credit of $5.1 million, increasing net income by $3.8 million, $.05 per share. Included in net investment results are i) realized net gains totaling $77.3 million, including $65.9 million on the exchange of our investment in Time Warner for AOL, which acquired Time Warner in the first quarter, and an $11.7 million gain on the sale of a portion of our investment in Centra Software, ii) $80.2 million in write-downs for several investments, including a $29.0 million write-down of the investment in AOL in the fourth quarter, and iii) an $11.5 million reduction in accrued performance-based compensation, to zero at December 31, 2001.
- Costs of $16.1 million associated with workforce reductions, including our $5.9 million share of such costs at the Denver JOA, decreased operating net income by $10.1 million, $.13 per share.

The combined effect of the above items was to decrease 2001 net income by $6.3 million, $.08 per share.

2000 - In addition to the gains on divested operations described in Note 3, reported results of operations were affected by the following items:

- Net investment results were a pre-tax charge of $24.8 million, decreasing net income by $15.8 million, $.20 per share. Included in net investment results are i) realized gains of $12.4 million, ii) $29.9 million in write-downs for several investments, and iii) a $4.5 million increase in accrued performance-based compensation, to $11.5 million at December 31, 2000.
- Expenses of $9.5 million associated with the formation of the Denver JOA reduced net income by $6.2 million, $.08 per share.
- We reduced our estimated tax liability for prior years and our estimate of unrealizable state net operating loss carryforwards (see Note 5). Net income was increased by $7.2 million, $.09 per share.

The combined effect of the above items was to decrease 2000 net income by $10.9 million, $.14 per share.

5. INCOME TAXES

In 2002, we settled the audit of our 1992 through 1995 consolidated federal income tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS"). Our 1996 through 2001 consolidated federal income tax returns are currently under examination by the IRS. As a result of the settlement and proposed adjustments in the current examination, we reduced our estimated liability for prior year income taxes and increased the amount we expect to realize from foreign tax credit carryforwards. These changes in estimates reduced our 2002 tax provision by $9.8 million. In 2000, we reduced our liability for prior year income taxes by $4.2 million.

We believe adequate provision has been made for all open tax years.

The approximate effects of the temporary differences giving rise to deferred income tax liabilities (assets) were as follows:

(in thousands)	As of December 31,
	2002	2001
Accelerated depreciation and amortization	$ 181,682	$ 148,780
Investments, primarily gains and losses not yet recognized for tax purposes	(262)	22,795
Accrued expenses not deductible until paid	(12,537)	(10,219)
Deferred compensation and retiree benefits not deductible until paid	(36,759)	(29,673)
Other temporary differences, net	(15,518)	(10,499)
Total	116,606	121,184
State net operating loss carryforwards	(13,055)	(13,587)
Valuation allowance for state deferred tax assets	8,715	6,393
Net deferred tax liability	$ 112,266	$ 113,990

Our state net operating loss carryforwards expire from 2003 through 2017. At each balance sheet date we estimate the amount of state net operating loss carryforwards that are not expected to be used prior to expiration of the carryforward period. The tax effect of these unused state net operating loss carryforwards is included in the valuation allowance. Based upon expected taxable income of subsidiary companies with state net operating loss carryforwards during the carryforward periods, we reduced our valuation allowance by $3.0 million in 2000.

The provision for income taxes consisted of the following:

Unrealized gains (losses) on securities available for sale	$	(1,457)	$ 7,793

Investments available for sale represent securities in publicly traded companies. Investments available for sale are recorded at fair value. Fair value is based upon the closing price of the security on the reporting date.

Other equity investments include securities that do not trade in public markets, so they do not have readily determinable fair values. We estimate the fair value of these securities approximates their carrying value at December 31, 2002, however, many of the investees have had no rounds of equity financing in the past two years. There can be no assurance we would realize the carrying value of these securities upon their sale.

We ceased active management of Scripps Ventures in 2002. Scripps Ventures invested approximately $100 million in new businesses focusing primarily on new media technology and realized approximately $45 million from the sale of investments. The carrying value of the portfolio was $3.8 million as of December 31, 2002.

In connection with the acquisition of the controlling interest in Shop At Home, we purchased $3.0 million of Summit America 6.0% redeemable preferred stock. At Summit America's option, dividends are deferred until the mandatory redemption of the preferred stock in 2005. We also loaned Summit America $47.5 million, to be repaid in 2005, at 6% interest. The note was recorded at fair value as of the date of acquisition of Shop At Home. The difference between the face value of the note and the fair value at the date of acquisition is accreted to income over the term of the note. Based upon market interest rates for fixed rate securities with similar terms and credit quality, we estimate the fair value of the note was approximately $46.3 million at December 31, 2002.

Summarized financial information for the Denver JOA and a summary of amounts recorded in our consolidated financial statements are presented below. The Denver JOA is organized as a limited liability company that has elected to be treated as a partnership for income tax purposes. Therefore the partners are responsible for income taxes applicable to their share of the taxable income of the Denver JOA. The net income of the Denver JOA presented below does not reflect income taxes that will be incurred by its partners.

The RMN received a 50% interest in the Denver JOA in exchange for the contribution of most of its assets to the Denver JOA and the payment of $60 million to MediaNews. No gain or loss was recognized on the contribution of the assets to the Denver JOA. The Denver JOA recorded the net assets contributed by us and by MediaNews at their historical cost. The difference between the carrying amount of our investment in the Denver JOA and our 50% share of the stockholders' equity of the Denver JOA relates to differences between the carrying value and the fair value of the contributed net assets.

Fair value of long-term debt *	$ 759,900	$ 730,000

* Fair value was estimated based on current rates available to the Company for debt of the same remaining maturity.

We have Competitive Advance and Revolving Credit Facilities (the "Revolver"), and a commercial paper program that collectively permit aggregate borrowings up to $600 million (the "Variable Rate Credit Facilities"). The Revolver consists of two facilities, one permitting $400 million in aggregate borrowings expiring in August 2003 and the second a $200 million facility expiring in 2007. The August 2003 facility is expected to be replaced with a similar facility prior to its expiration. Borrowings under the Revolver are available on a committed revolving credit basis at our choice of three short-term rates or through an auction procedure at the time of each borrowing. The Revolver is primarily used as credit support for our commercial paper program in lieu of direct borrowings under the Revolver. The weighted-average interest rate on the Variable Rate Credit Facilities at December 31 was 1.4% in 2002 and 2.0% in 2001.

We have a U.S. shelf registration statement which allows us to borrow up to $500 million, of which $400 million was available at December 31, 2002. In February 2003, we borrowed $50 million under the shelf registration statement, reducing the available amount to $350 million. The proceeds from the notes were used to reduce commercial paper borrowings. Concurrently, we entered into a pay-floating interest rate swap, effectively converting the notes to a variable rate obligation indexed to LIBOR.

Certain long-term debt agreements contain maintenance requirements for net worth and coverage of interest expense and restrictions on incurrence of additional indebtedness. We are in compliance with all debt covenants.

Current maturities of long-term debt are classified as long-term to the extent they can be refinanced under existing long-term credit commitments.

Capitalized interest was $0.6 million in 2002, $0.7 million in 2001 and $0.2 million in 2000.

No single customer provides more than 10% of our revenue. International revenues are primarily derived from licensing comic characters and HGTV and Food Network programming in international markets. Licensing of comic characters in Japan provides approximately 60% of our international revenues, which are less than $50 million annually.

Other additions to long-lived assets include investments and launch incentives capitalized. Corporate assets are primarily cash, cash equivalent and other short-term investments, and deferred income taxes.

17. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

We are involved in litigation arising in the ordinary course of business, none of which is expected to result in material loss. Our cable television systems were acquired by Comcast Corporation ("Comcast") in 1996. Pursuant to the terms of the agreement with Comcast, we remain liable for any losses resulting from certain lawsuits, certain other expenses and tax liabilities of the cable television systems attributable to periods prior to the transactions.

Minimum payments on noncancelable leases at December 31, 2002, were: 2003, $14.3 million; 2004, $12.2 million; 2005, $9.5 million; 2006, $7.0 million; 2007, $6.6 million; and later years, $17.8 million. We expect our operating leases will be replaced with leases for similar facilities upon their expiration. Rental expense for cancelable and noncancelable leases was $19.0 million in 2002, $16.8 million in 2001 and $19.3 million in 2000.

In the ordinary course of business we enter into long-term contracts to obtain satellite transmission rights, to obtain distribution of Shop At Home, or to obtain other services. Liabilities for such commitments are recorded when the related services are rendered. Minimum payments on such contractual commitments at December 31, 2002, were: 2003, $40.8 million; 2004, $38.5 million; 2005, $29.7 million; and 2006, $2.8 million. We expect these contracts will be replaced with similar contracts upon their expiration.

18. CAPITAL STOCK AND INCENTIVE PLANS

Capital Stock - Scripps' capital structure includes Common Voting Shares and Class A Common Shares. The articles of incorporation provide that the holders of Class A Common Shares, who are not entitled to vote on any other matters except as required by Ohio law, are entitled to elect the greater of three or one-third of the directors.

Repurchase of a total of 6.0 million Class A Common Shares has been authorized by the Board of Directors. A total of 4.3 million shares were repurchased between June 1997 and October 2001, at prices ranging from $39 to $60 per share. The balance remaining on the authorization is 1.7 million shares.

Incentive Plans - Scripps' Long-Term Incentive Plan (the "Plan") provides for the award of restricted and unrestricted Class A Common Shares, incentive and nonqualified stock options with 10-year terms, stock appreciation rights, and performance units to key employees and non-employee directors. The Plan expires in 2007, except for options then outstanding. The number of shares authorized for issuance under the plan at December 31, 2002, was 13.9 million, of which approximately 3.9 million had not been issued.

Restricted Stock - Awards of Class A Common Shares vest over an incentive period conditioned upon the individual's employment throughout that period. During the vesting period shares issued are nontransferable, but the shares are entitled to all the rights of an outstanding share.

Information related to awards of Class A Common Shares is presented below:

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders,
The E. W. Scripps Company:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of The E. W. Scripps Company and subsidiary companies ("Company") as of December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the related consolidated statements of income, cash flows and comprehensive income and shareholders' equity for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2002. Our audits also included the financial statement schedule listed in the Index at Item S-1. These financial statements and financial statement schedule are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statements and financial statement schedule based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company at December 31, 2002 and 2001, and the results of its operations and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2002, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Also, in our opinion, such financial statement schedule, when considered in relation to the basic consolidated financial statements taken as a whole, presents fairly in all material respects the information set forth therein.

As discussed in Note 2 to the consolidated financial statements, the Company adopted the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standard No. 142 "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets," effective January 1, 2002.
